The University of Illinois

The University of Illinois

The alma mater statue welcomes students and visitors to campus.

Since its founding in 1867, the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign has earned a reputation of international stature. Its distinguished faculty, outstanding resources, breadth of academic programs and research disciplines, and talented and diverse student body constitute an educational community ideally suited for scholarship and research. Located in east central Illinois in the twin cities of Urbana and Champaign (population 110,000), the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign is the state's flagship public university.

Students

The University has a fundamental commitment to undergraduate education. Nearly 26,000 undergraduate students are enrolled in 10 undergraduate divisions, which together offer some 4,000 courses in more than 150 fields of study. The divisions are: the College of Agriculture, College of

The Krannert Center for the Performing Arts hosts more than 300 performances each year.

Applied Life Studies, College of Commerce and Business Administration, College of Education, College of Engineering, College of Fine and Applied Arts, College of Liberal Arts and Sciences, College of Communications, Institute of Aviation and School of Social Work.

Undergraduate admission is highly selective. In a recent freshman class, the average student was in the top 10 percent of his or her high school graduating class and scored in the top 10 percent of those taking the national college entrance examination. Approximately 9,000 graduate and professional students are enrolled in more than 100 disciplines.

On campus and in the community, Illinois students participate in a variety of organizations and activities. Student volunteers gave more than 52,000 hours of community service in blood drives, day care centers, prisons, senior citizen centers and tutoring programs last year for organizations like Volunteer Illini Projects and Student Ambassadors.

Campus activities such as Take the Lead bring in a diverse selection of community and University people to help students improve their leadership skills in public speaking, team building, problem solving, time management and many other areas.

World-class Faculty

Consistently ranked among the nation's top 50 research universities, the University of Illinois is the home of more than 80 members of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, the National Academy of Sciences or the National Academy of Engineering. Ten scientists have received the National Medal of Science, and more than 60 have received the National Science Foundation Young Investigator Award while on the faculty. At Illinois, research has a home in libraries, laboratories, and classrooms where it provides a real-life context for instruction and learning.

University Library

Academic resources on the campus are among the world's finest. The University Library is the third largest academic collection in the nation, housing more than 15 million items in the main library and in the more than 40 departmental libraries and units. Only Harvard and Yale have larger collections. The library's computerized cataloging system was the first in the world to serve as the primary access to a large academic library. Users have worldwide access to the collections through the Internet.

Computing

A leader in supercomputing applications, the University is home of NCSA (National Center for Supercomputing Applications) where Mosaic web browsing software was first developed. Since first released in 1993, Mosaic has spawned exponential growth in the use of the world wide web. NCSA staff also have been instrumental in promoting world wide web access at the White House and in the city of Chicago.

Cross-disciplinary Research

Students and scholars find the University an ideal place to conduct cross-disciplinary research. The most visible example of the University's commitment to such study is the Beckman Institute for Advanced Science and Technology, where 18 research groups from nearly two dozen disciplines work within and across the following three main research themes: biological intelligence, human-computer intelligent interaction, and molecular and electronic nanostructures.

The Arts

A major center for the arts, the campus attracts dozens of nationally and internationally renowned artists each year to its widely acclaimed Krannert Center for the Performing Arts. Designed by alumnus Max Abramovitz, an architect of New York City's Lincoln Center, the facility has four indoor theaters and an outdoor amphitheater. Together, they host more than 300 performances each year. The University also supports three major museums: the Krannert Art Museum and Kincaid Pavilion, second only to the Art Institute of Chicago among Illinois public art museums, the World Heritage Museum and the Museum of Natural History.

Other major facilities include the multipurpose Assembly Hall (16,000 seats), which hosts concerts, convocations, theater, and sporting events; Memorial Stadium (69,000 seats), site of Big Ten Conference football games; and the Intramural-Physical Education Building, one of the largest recreational facilities of its kind on a university campus.

Partnership with the State

Also integral to the University's mission is a commitment to partnerships with many sectors of Illinois business and industry. Each year more than 60,000 Illinois residents participate in scores of conferences, institutes, credit and non-credit courses, and workshops presented on campus and statewide. University-sponsored programs in both urban and rural areas of the state bring University faculty to the citizens of Illinois to share their expertise in food industries, health, K-12 education, and economic development, to name a few.

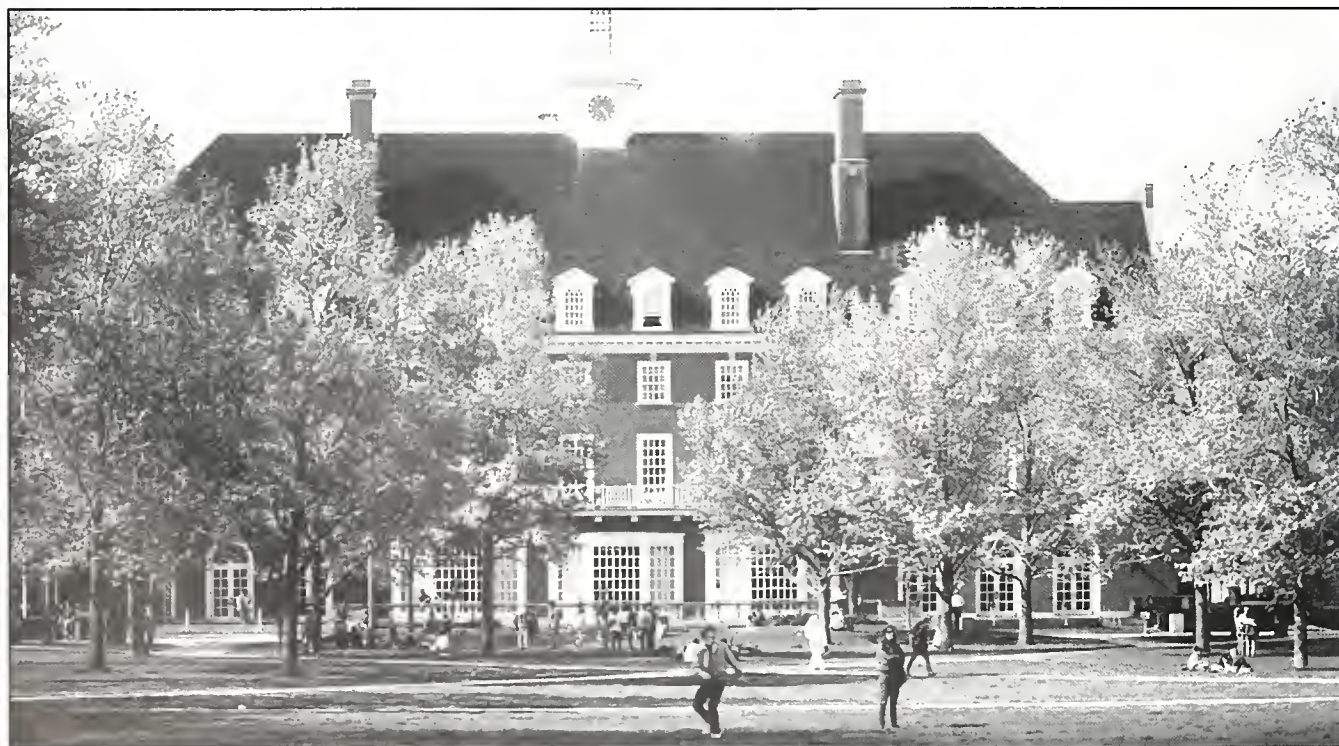

The Institute for Competitive Manufacturing has succeeded in solving business and manufacturing problems in hundreds of Illinois firms by matching student project teams with businesses in need.

Our Graduates Succeed

Freshman retention and overall graduation rates are well above the national averages. In fall of 1994, 91 percent of freshmen entering in 1993 returned for their sophomore year. The 1994 graduation rate for students who entered the university in 1988 on a full-time basis was 80 percent. The national average for four-year schools is approximately 50 percent. More than 75 percent of the 1993 graduating seniors applying to law school were accepted by at least one school endorsed by the American Bar Association. Medical school admissions are also impressive with typically more than 200 hundred students are admitted each year.

Did you know . . .

- . . . More than 91 percent of University of Illinois seniors seeking employment obtain positions within eight months of graduation? Nearly 43 percent do so before graduation.
- . . . Illinois was the first university to offer higher education to students with disabilities? It has remained the leader in the field of rehabilitative services.
- . . . Some of the most popular majors at the University of Illinois are: accounting, electrical engineering, architecture, biology, psychology and agricultural economics?
- . . . In 1994, Fiske Guide to Colleges gave the University of Illinois a five-star rating in academics? Edward Fiske called the University of Illinois "a giant among academic institutions, ranking among the nation's great universities."

Illini Union contains meeting rooms, a hotel, restaurants, a bowling alley, a billiard room and computer laboratories.

Learning and participating are important outside, as well as inside, the classroom. And at the University of Illinois, the opportunities are as limitless in extracurricular arenas as they are in academic arenas.

Housing

First-rate residence halls with good food, the nation's largest fraternity and sorority system, independent housing and a wide range of apartments provide broad choices of where and how to live.

Activities

More than 700 student organizations provide an outlet for every interest. From the philanthropies of Volunteer Ilini Projects to the rock music of student radio station WPGU. There are more than 40 student organizations for minority interests.

Sports and recreation

The Intramural-Physical Education Building is one of the largest complexes on any campus, with four gymnasiums, 23 handball/racquetball courts, weight and exercise equipment, indoor and outdoor pools, tennis courts and more. The U of I has one of the most comprehensive intramural sports programs in the nation. If the great outdoors is more to your liking, the university's 1,500-acre Allerton Park includes sculpture gardens, formal gardens and natural woodlands.

Bill Cosby is just one of the many entertainers who have appeared at the Assembly Hall.

Culture and entertainment

The domed Assembly Hall seats more than 16,000 for rock concerts, ice shows, circuses, Broadway musicals and, of course, Illinois basketball. Beautifully restored Foellinger Auditorium on the Quad seats 1,750 for concerts, films and speakers. And the Krannert Center for the Performing Arts, holds four theaters for plays, dance and concerts by such famed names as the Chicago Symphony and Itzhak Perlman.

Off campus

Champaign and Urbana, with a population of 110,000, offer shopping, restaurants, movie theaters, night spots and many other big-city amenities. Yet, they retain a Midwestern college-town atmosphere.

The Intramural and Physical Education Building is one of the largest complexes of its type on any college campus.

Illinois' Commitment to Success

The goal of each sports program within the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics at the University of Illinois is to strive toward success. The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics has taken a comprehensive approach to the success of the student-athlete. The PACE program (Personal Achievement in Career and Education) is designed to meet the total needs of the student-athlete. Those needs served by the PACE program are: 1) the student's objectives as a scholar; 2) the student's requirements as an athlete; and 3) the student's personal goals as an individual.

This comprehensive balance of academic excellence, athletic achievement and personal well-being is stressed daily by the administrative staff and coaches. Inevitably, a student-athlete's playing days will end, but with the help of the UI's PACE program, each Fighting Illini athlete will be fully prepared for career and personal challenges ahead.

Among the elements stressed by the academic services department to assure student-athlete success are counseling and tutorial services, a monitoring program and a state-of-the-art computer laboratory.

Athletically, the University of Illinois has long supported a broad-based sports program. Its coaching staff and facilities are among the nation's best. The UI's support units include excellent staffs for recruiting, equipment, facility maintenance, fund raising, publicity and promotion. Its sports medicine staff not only assists student-athletes in strength training and conditioning, but also in personal health maintenance.

As important as the UI's commitment is to the student-athlete's performance in the classroom and on the field, it also considers the individual's spiritual and emotional needs, and, his/her career objectives. Fighting Illini student-athletes are afforded the opportunity to attend a variety of seminars during their collegiate experience, helping them enhance their future following athletics. Among the seminars offered are those in career placement, financial planning, time and stress management, sexual harassment, drug and alcohol education and player/agent relations.

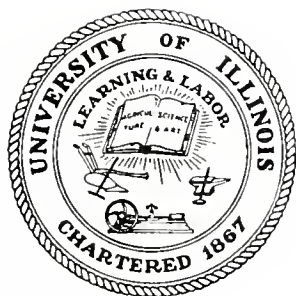

Kiwane Garri speaks to youngsters at a Hometown Heroes stop last spring.

The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics also sponsors a student athletic advisory board, which is made up of representatives from all 17 Fighting Illini intercollegiate athletic teams.

The strong relationships built within the vast Illinois alumni networking system provide excellent opportunities for all student-athletes, whether it be for summer jobs, internships or, ultimately, in career placement after graduation. Once the individual's career is established, the DIA asks for his/her participation in a follow-up program that allows current student-athletes to benefit from their predecessors' experiences. Former student-athletes are asked to return to campus for seminars and discussions that serve to provide guidance and understanding for future graduates.

While at the University of Illinois, student-athletes are encouraged to participate in the DIA's community-outreach program, including the "Hometown Heroes" program. The program is designed for student-athletes to serve as role models for area youth. It is just one part of the complete commitment to success made at the University of Illinois. This commitment to success is not a one-time event for UI student-athletes, but rather an on-going practice.

Board of Trustees

The Board of Trustees of the University of Illinois exercises final authority over the administration and governance of the University within limits fixed by the Illinois Constitution and state law.

Under legislation approved by the General Assembly and signed by the governor in early 1995, trustees of the University are to be appointed by the governor, starting January 1, 1996. Before then, trustees had been elected statewide by the citizens of Illinois in November general elections.

As before, there will be nine trustees. Appointed trustees will serve for six years. Terms will be staggered, with three to expire every two years. All trustees serve without pay.

In addition to the nine trustees, the governor of Illinois is an ex-officio member of the board. Three students, one each from Urbana-Champaign, Chicago and Springfield, serve single-year terms. Student trustee votes are advisory only. Student trustees continue to be elected by students on their respective campuses.

The chairman of the board is elected annually, in January, from among the nine trustees. The 1995 chairman is Thomas R. Lamont.

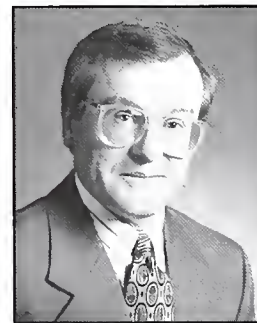

The nine trustees on this page will serve through 1995 and may or may not be on the board after that.

President James J. Stukel

James J. Stukel was named the 15th President of the University of Illinois earlier this year, succeeding the retiring Stanley O. Ikenberry. Stukel assumed his duties Aug. 1.

For the last four years, Stukel served as chancellor and chief executive officer of the University of Illinois at Chicago, leading UIC into the first rank of research universities and expanding its commitment to addressing urban problems. Stukel is known for his efforts to improve elementary and secondary education, health care and economic development in Chicago.

Stukel has been a part of the University of Illinois family since enrolling in graduate school in 1961. Stukel spent 23 years on the Urbana-

Champaign campus as an administrator, engineering professor and researcher. He then moved to UIC, spending one year as vice chancellor for research and five years as executive vice chancellor and vice chancellor for administrative affairs before assuming the chancellor position in Chicago.

Stukel was born March 30, 1937, in Joliet, Ill., and attended Joliet public schools. He earned his bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from Purdue University in 1959 and spent two years as a research engineer for the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company. In 1961, Stukel enrolled in graduate school at Illinois, earning his M.S. in mechanical engineering in 1963 and his Ph.D. in mechanical engineering in 1968.

He became assistant professor of environmental engineering and mechanical engineering at Illinois in 1968, associate professor in 1971 and full professor in 1975.

Stukel has been honored as co-recipient of the 1975 ASCE State-of-the-Art of Civil Engineering Award, recognized in "American Men and Women of Science" and listed in "Who's Who in Engineering," "Who's Who in Technology" and "Who's Who in America."

An active member of many civic and professional organizations in the Chicago area during his tenure at UIC, Stukel has served on the board of directors for organizations such as the Boy Scouts of America, New York Academy of Sciences, Junior Achievement of Chicago, Duncan YMCA and Chicago Metro History Fair. He has served as honorary chair of the Chicago Regional Purchasing Council, vice president of the Teachers Academy for Mathematics and Science and is a member of the executive committee of the Urban Affairs Division of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges.

Stukel and his wife, the former M. Joan Helpling, have four children and one grandchild.

Chancellor Michael T. Aiken

Michael Aiken became the sixth chancellor of the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign July 1, 1993. Aiken is an internationally recognized sociologist who has specialized in the analysis of organizations and issues of community power and social change.

At Illinois, Aiken has launched a campus-wide strategic planning campaign. The goals of this planning are contained in "A Framework for the Future." As the institution changes to meet demographic and technological developments, the report says, the University of Illinois remains committed to providing students a practical, quality education. Key principles in the Framework include the university's intentions to "invest in people," continue building upon its broad range of scholarship and research, "accord full value" to its teaching mission, invest in the facilities and environment faculty and students need to do their work, increase the exploration and use of new teaching and information technologies, and strengthen its scope in international studies.

Before coming to Illinois, Aiken was provost of the University of Pennsylvania, where he also had served as a faculty member in the department of sociology, chairman in sociology and dean of the School of Arts and Sciences.

From 1963 to 1984, Aiken held faculty and administrative posts at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, with time away at Columbia University, Washington University in St. Louis, and two Belgian universities, the Katholieke Universiteit te Leuven and the Université Catholique de Louvain.

Reared in Mississippi, Aiken is a 1954 graduate of the University of Mississippi. He earned his master's degree in 1955 and doctorate degree in sociology in 1964 from the University of Michigan.

Aiken's wife, Catherine Comet, is the musical director of the Grand Rapids (Mich.) Symphony Orchestra. They have one daughter, Caroline.

Division of Intercollegiate Athletics

Division of Intercollegiate Athletics

The forerunner of the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics (DIA), the University of Illinois Athletic Association, was chartered in 1892 as a not-for-profit corporation by the state of Illinois. It was charged with overseeing and conducting the University's intercollegiate athletic programs and associated support services, and operated as a separate entity.

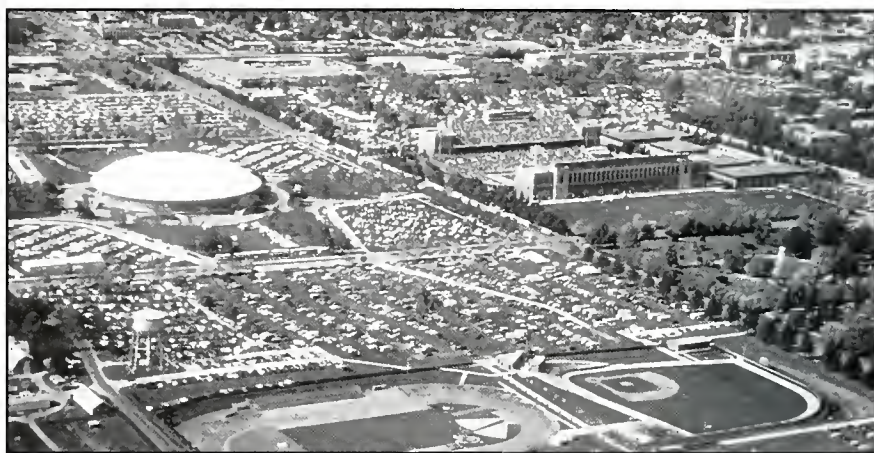

After the state legislature voted in June 1989 to bring the UI athletics within the University proper, the DIA assumed the functions and responsibilities of the Athletic Association. The DIA officially began operations July 1, 1989.

The director of athletics is the division's chief executive officer, and reports directly to the chancellor of the Urbana-Champaign campus. The chancellor has final say regarding the athletic program in all areas except for budget and approval of major appointments. Those decisions rest with the UI Board of Trustees.

The Athletic Board serves the DIA in an advisory capacity. It is composed of 18 members.

The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics receives neither state tax dollars nor student fees. The University of Illinois is able to fully fund the NCAA-maximum allowable number of athletic scholarships for student-athletes in its 17 sport programs, as well as maintain top-notch facilities and coaching staffs, with revenues from three major sources. Those sources are: gate receipts from football and men's basketball, television and radio rights for those two sports, and donations to the Fighting Illini Scholarship Fund.

The FHSF contributions provide the 350 scholarships in nine men's and eight women's sports at an average annual cost of $9,848 for in-state tuition and $14,100 for out-of-state tuition.

The Assembly Hall, Memorial Stadium, the Atkins Tennis Center, Illinois Field, and the Outdoor Track and Field Stadium are on the south end of campus.

Athletic Facilities

The Division of Intercollegiate Athletics utilizes 11 facilities for competition and the administration of its 17 varsity sports. They are: Memorial Stadium, Assembly Hall, Huff Hall, Illinois Field, the Outdoor Track and Field Stadium, the Armory, Atkins Tennis Center, the Intramural and Physical Education Building, Kenney Gym, the University of Illinois Golf Courses and administrative offices, temporarily housed in Illini Plaza.

In 1992, the DIA completed an $18 million renovation project on Memorial Stadium.

Football is not the only athletic program receiving benefits from new and improved facilities. The most recent addition to the University of Illinois athletic physical plant is the Atkins Tennis Center, which opened in November 1991.

The baseball and track teams will begin their eighth seasons next spring in their respective facilities. Illinois Field is a first-rate 1500-seat baseball facility, and is targeted for a future expansion to accommodate 5,000 fans.

The nationally acclaimed track teams are primed for another year of competition in their $2.2 million stadium, for which future plans include a press box and seating for up to 12,000.

The men's basketball team plays its games at the 16,000-seat Assembly

Hall, just south of Memorial Stadium, while the women play at Huff Hall.

Huff Hall, the home of Illinois basketball from 1925-63 when it was known as Huff Gym, is in the midst of a step-by-step renewal process designed to upgrade it as a practice and/or competition site for volleyball, women's basketball, wrestling and gymnastics events.

Groundbreaking took place in October 1994 for the 40,000 square foot Bielfeldt Athletic Administration Building, located on the east-west axis between Atkins Tennis Center and the Assembly Hall. The facility will house the offices of not only the administration and most of the coaches, but also those of the Fighting Illini Scholarship Fund, accounting and personnel, and marketing and promotions.

A "Park of Tradition," which will celebrate and commemorate the history of Fighting Illini athletics, will lead pedestrians from the southeast corner of Fourth Street and Kirby Avenue to the main entrance on the west side of the structure. It is around that main entrance that a Fighting Illini athletics hall of fame will be situated.

The benefactors for the project are Gary and Carlotta Bielfeldt of Peoria and their family.

The Assembly Hall

There is just one facility that could host not only Fighting Illini Basketball, but also the Ice Capades, Jay Leno, Whitney Houston, Garth Brooks, Stevie Wonder, Hammer, Ray Charles, Amy Grant, Broadway plays and Bill Cosby. That place is the Assembly Hall, which celebrated the 30th anniversary of its first basketball game in March 1993.

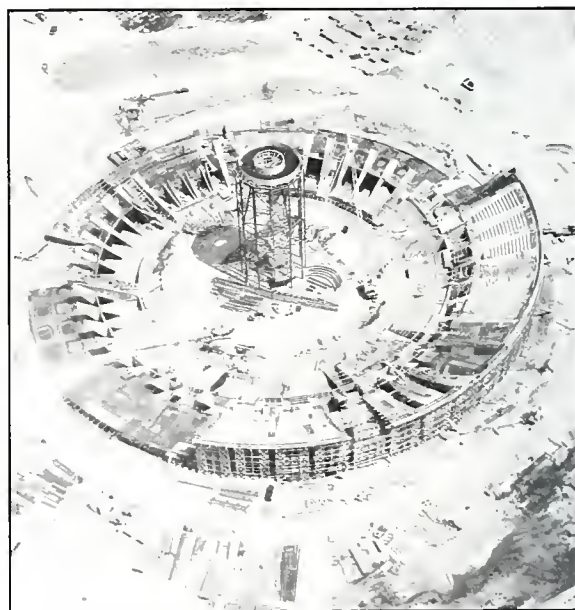

One of the world's most unique arenas, the Assembly Hall has won world-wide acclaim for its architectural design—a design that has been used as a model for more than 125 buildings around the globe. The Assembly Hall was built between 1959 and 1963 at a cost of $8.35 million. The structure consists of two concrete bowls placed face to face; the 100-foot diameter of the dome makes it the largest of its kind in the world.

Its circular seating arrangement makes the Assembly Hall an ideal place to watch an event; it gives each of the spectators (potentially 16,150 for basketball) an excellent, unobstructed view of the exciting action on the court. That capacity has been stretched to overflowing on 51 occasions. The all-time attendance mark was set March 1, 1987, when 16,793 Fighting Illini fans enjoyed a victory over eventual national champion Indiana. Prior to its first game in the Assembly Hall—March 4, 1963—the Fighting Illini played at Huff Hall.

Illinois has enjoyed great success in the Assembly Hall. In 33 seasons, the team has won 77 percent of the games it has played (332-99). In fact, in a recent two-year period, the Fighting Illini went on a streak of 31 wins at the Hall.

In 1994-95, 221,772 fans, an average of 15,841 per game, came through the Assembly Hall turnstiles. That average is Illinois' highest since the 1989-90 season (16,031) and the third-highest season average in 33 years at the Hall.

In 1970-71, the Assembly Hall accommodated an NCAA record-setting 177,408 spectators (since broken), when all 11 home games were sellouts.

Director of Athletics Ron Guenther

The University of Illinois' intercollegiate athletics program has made tremendous strides under the leadership of fourth-year director Ronald E. (Ron) Guenther, and 1995-96 could be a season when the labors of his first three years begin to pay big dividends.

Consider some of what has happened within the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics since Guenther was named athletic director May 14, 1992:

- Illinois teams placed higher than a year ago in 12 of the 19 Big Ten championships in which they competed in 1994-95, while five others had about the same standing as they did in 1993-94.
- Illinois' football team won its first Bowl game in four years and had sellouts in each of its last two regular-season home games.
- Illinois' men's basketball program advanced to the NCAA tournament for the third consecutive year and registered the third-highest attendance mark ever at the Assembly Hall in 1994-95.
- The Fighting Illini wrestling program, under Coach Mark Johnson, placed ninth at the NCAA tournament, its best finish in 37 years.
- UI's volleyball program advanced to its 10th consecutive NCAA tournament bid in 1994.
- Illinois hired Theresa Greutz, coach of the 1992 U.S. Olympic Team, as its women's basketball coach in May 1995.
- The Illini women's track program swept both the indoor and outdoor team titles in 1995.
- Nearly half of all Fighting Illini student-athletes had a grade-point average of 4.0 or better (on a 5.0 scale) in 1994-95.
- The DIA's corporate sponsorship program yielded approximately $575,000 in 1994-95.
- The DIA began construction of the Bielfeldt Athletic Administration Building, with completion of the structure scheduled for the spring of 1996.
- Illinois' athletic department completed a successful review of its compliance with the Title IX guidelines.

Guenther assumed the directorship of the DIA following nearly two years with the UI Foundation, where he served from September of 1990 through June of 1992.

He was a partner with The Barofsky Association, a Chicago area investments and marketing firm from March of 1989 until he returned to the University.

From June of 1988 to March of 1989, Guenther was UI's interim director of athletics for external operations, administering the development program, public relations, promotions, tickets, merchandise and summer camps. He was responsible for negotiating Illinois' bid to the 1988 All American Bowl in Birmingham, Ala.

Guenther spent the previous three years as associate athletic director for development, coordinating UI's Campaign for Excellence in Athletics. That campaign provided the impetus towards upgrading the University's athletic plant for the first time in nearly 60 years.

Among the facilities that were targeted and ultimately completed were stadia for baseball and track and field, the Atkins Tennis Center, plus construction of the current football office/training complex. Guenther was instrumental in soliciting gift commitments totaling $15 million.

From May 1983 to June 1985, he served as Illinois' assistant athletic director for Chicago operations. Among his achievements were the creation of the annual statewide caravan for promotion and public relations, and the tripling of the number of donors to the Fighting

Illini athletic program.

Guenther spent eight years at North Central College in Naperville, Ill., including a stint from 1975-79 as director of admissions and also as associate head football coach. From 1979-83, he served as NCC's vice president of development and public affairs. Guenther helped design and implement NCC's successful $15 million Capital Campaign. As associate head football coach, he helped the Cardinals compile a record of 23-12-2, including the school's first winning season in 15 years.

Before moving to North Central College, Guenther coached the offensive line at Boston College from 1971-74.

From 1968-71, he was a teacher and coach in football, wrestling and track for the Evanston Township and Glenbard High School systems in suburban Chicago.

At Illinois, under Head Coach Pete Elliott, Guenther was an all-star offensive guard for the Fighting Illini football team. Among the honors he won during his senior season in 1966 were team Most Valuable Player honors, second-team All-Big Ten laurels, Academic All-Big Ten honors, and the George Huff Award for academic proficiency at the UI. Guenther was also selected as the University's outstanding senior in physical education.

Guenther, born October 3, 1915, earned two degrees from the University of Illinois, a B.S. in physical education in 1967 and a M.S. in administration in 1968.

Head Coach Lou Henson

Lou Henson is one of the most respected and successful coaches in college basketball. The 63-year-old Okay, Okla., native enters his 34th season of college coaching as the seventh-winningest (645 victories) active NCAA Division I coach.

Henson, the 1993 Big Ten Coach of the year, picked up his 600th win Jan. 21, 1993, when the Illini defeated Penn State, 82-66, at the Assembly Hall. The victory made him only the 16th coach in NCAA Division I history to achieve that feat and helped him earn nomination to the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame during the summer of 1993. Illinois' winningest basketball coach, with 405 victories, Henson became just the fourth coach in Big Ten history to compile 200 wins when the Illini defeated Purdue Jan. 10, 1995. Illinois' victory at Iowa on Feb. 1, 1995, was the 400th of Henson's career while at Illinois.

After guiding Illinois to its most successful basketball season ever (record 31 wins and NCAA Final Four appearance) in 1989, Henson is one of just 10 coaches to have taken teams from two different schools to the Final Four.

Henson's success has not been limited to his stay in Champaign-

Urbana. He has a proven track record wherever he has lent his expertise. His teams have either tied or set school records for single-season victories seven times. It is no accident that Henson has fielded post-season tournament-caliber teams 21 times, including 15 of the last 16 years, and that his collegiate teams have averaged 20 wins per season.

Henson's basketball career began in his home town. After taking his skills to Connors (Okla.) Junior College and New Mexico State (from where he graduated in 1955), he moved to a less familiar vantage point, the sidelines. He ventured immediately into coaching, spending six seasons at Las Cruces High School in New Mexico, where he served as junior varsity coach for two years, before being promoted to head coach. While at LCHS, Henson compiled 145 wins against just 23 losses, capturing three consecutive state championships along the way.

Hardin-Simmons gave Henson his first chance to coach at the collegiate level, and he seized the opportunity by putting together 20-victory seasons on two occasions. Those 20-win seasons sandwiched a 17-win campaign, and each was built around a forward out of Syracuse, N.Y., named Dick Nagy, who now is a 17-year veteran on Henson's coaching staff at Illinois.

Henson's fourth and final season at Hardin-Simmons ended at 20-6. That same year (1966), New Mexico State was finishing at 4-22. The Aggies called upon Henson to rebuild their program, and the next season he produced a 15-11 slate and took the team on the first of six trips to the NCAA tournament.

Of those appearances, the 1970 season was the most fruitful. New Mexico State, led by All-America guard Jimmy Collins, who also serves now as an Illinois assistant coach, finished the season with 27 wins and three losses. The final loss was to eventual-champion, UCLA, in the semifinals of the NCAA tournament. It was the third consecutive time the Bruins had knocked off Henson's Aggies.

New Mexico went on to win its final game against St. Bonaventure and finished third in the NCAA tournament. Members of that 1970 quintet included three players who made names for themselves in the NBA: Sam Lacey (Kansas City Kings), Charlie Criss (Atlanta Hawks) and Collins (Chicago Bulls).

On top of the four 20-win seasons at New Mexico State, Henson won 19 games twice and had only one losing season. Over his 33-year career, Henson has had just four losing seasons. Within two years of all four, he had either won 20 games or led his team to a postseason tournament.

Despite the three years of disappointment John Wooden's teams handed Henson at tournament time, it was Wooden's retirement that paved the way for Henson's arrival in Champaign. UCLA decided to replace Wooden with then-Illinois coach

Gene Bartow. Henson was chosen to fill the vacancy left by Bartow, and rebuild a team that finished 8-18 the previous year. He was the third coach in as many years for Illinois.

Henson's combined record for his first three seasons at Illinois was just two games over .500. From then on, only once has he finished under .500.

Former assistant Tony Yates made recruiting inroads to Chicago, and Dick Nagy and Jimmy Collins have strengthened those ties. This has all provided the foundation for a program that is generally considered one of the best in the nation, year-in and year-out.

With the NIT final four appearance in 1980, a Big Ten co-championship in 1984 (after which he was voted ESPN's National Coach of the Year), 11 NCAA tournament appearances, including the Final Four trip to Seattle in 1989, the program has become renowned for its consistently strong teams.

Henson has always been a stickler for defense. His 1966 New Mexico State squad held its opponents to 39 percent shooting from the field. Since he has led the Fighting Illini program, the opponents' combined field goal percentage is 44.4, while the Illini have held their opponents to 69.1 points per game.

Henson and his wife, Mary, live in Champaign and have three daughters, Lisa, Lori and Leigh Anne. Their son, Lou Jr., who had entered the collegiate coaching profession at Parkland College in Champaign, was killed in an automobile accident Nov. 20, 1992. Then Hensons have seven grandchildren – Lacey, Lindsey, Catie, Danny, Haley, Evan and Kristy – with another scheduled for a late fall birth.

Notable Henson Accomplishments

- Led Fighting Illini to their first NCAA Final Four appearance (in 1989) since 1952.
- Coached the Illini to 20 or more wins for nine consecutive seasons, 1982-1991, and has averaged more than 20 wins per season during his 20 years at Illinois.
- Made 11-consecutive postseason appearances (1980-90), nine of which were in the NCAA tournament. Has taken Illinois to the NCAA tournament 12 times.
- Is the 16th coach in NCAA history to win 600 games in a career; No. 600 came Jan. 21, 1993, at the Assembly Hall against Penn State.
- Has produced a 113-12 (.904) non-conference record at the Assembly Hall.
- Has put together 11 of Illinois' 17 20-win basketball seasons, and 11 consecutive seasons with 10 or more Big Ten wins.
- Led Illinois to an average of 22 wins per season over the last 13 years.
- Has sent several players to the NBA. Those currently on NBA rosters are Derek Harper (New York Knickerbockers), Ken Norman (Atlanta Hawks), Nick Anderson (Orlando Magic) and Kendall Gill (Charlotte Hornets).
- Is the winningest coach in the history of Illinois basketball with a record of 405-211. He is second among all-time Big Ten coaches in wins at one school.
- Was the 1993 Big Ten Coach of the Year and 1984 National Coach of the Year by ESPN.
- Became just the fourth coach in Big Ten history to record 200 conference wins when the Illini defeated Purdue Jan. 10, 1995 at West Lafayette.

Illinois Basketball Staff

Dick Nagy

Assistant Coach

From Hardin-Simmons to the NCAA Final Four, Dick Nagy has been with Lou Henson both as a player and as an assistant coach. In fact, since he rejoined Henson in 1979, the Fighting Illini have played in postseason tournaments 11 of 16 years and put together a string of 11 consecutive postseason appearances. The 1995-96 season will be Nagy's 17th season at Illinois.

Nagy, a Syracuse, N.Y., native, began his long association with Henson when he was convinced by the future Illinois mentor to attend Hardin-Simmons. Nagy, who had been out of high school for three years and had played independent basketball in Syracuse, led the Cowboys to a pair of 20-6 records in two of the three seasons he and Henson were together. After Henson departed Hardin-Simmons for New Mexico State, Nagy captained his second Cowboys team, and then went on to serve as an assistant coach at the school for two more years while earning a master's degree in education in 1969. He earned a bachelor's degree in physical education and history from Hardin-Simmons in 1967.

Nagy later moved on to start the basketball program at Barton County Community College in Great Bend, Kan., in 1969. After the 1976 season, Nagy moved into private business before accepting the head coaching job at East Central Community College in Union, Mo.

In addition to his coaching (primarily with the inside players) and recruiting duties, Nagy is the coordinator of Illinois' highly-successful summer basketball camp.

He has two children, Robin and Scott, and two grandsons, Matthew and Nicholas. He has another grandchild due in the fall of 1996. Scott will begin his first year as head coach at North Dakota State University this season. Nagy lives in Champaign.

The Nagy Resume

- 1969-76 Head Coach, Barton County Community College
- 1973-76 Director of Athletics, Barton County Community College
- 1977-79 Head Coach, East Central Community College
- 1979- Assistant Coach, University of Illinois

Jimmy Collins

Assistant Coach

A former first-round draft pick of the Chicago Bulls, Jimmy Collins rejoined Lou Henson in 1983 as a full-time assistant and is entering his 13th year at Illinois as one of the nation's top recruiting assistant coaches.

Collins was a star guard at New Mexico State under Henson; he averaged 20.1 points per game over his three-year career, leading the Aggies to an NCAA Final Four appearance in 1970. After college he spent two years with the Bulls and finished his playing career with the Carolina Congars of the American Basketball Association.

Collins was a probation officer in Chicago prior to coming to Illinois. He was also a volunteer coach at St. Thomas School in Chicago and coordinated summer basketball leagues in the city. Collins also coached in the pro-college league of Chicago, where he was named Coach of the Year in 1981.

A native of Syracuse, N.Y., Collins received his bachelor's degree in journalism from NMSU in 1970. Following his pro career, he returned to the Las Cruces campus to serve as a graduate assistant. He returned to Chicago in 1976 to enter private business before joining the probation office in 1977.

His coaching responsibilities with Illinois, in addition to recruiting, lie largely with the development with the guards.

He and his wife, Hettie, have four children, Erica, Kenny, Semaj and Brandi, and live in Champaign.

The Collins Resume

- 1980-83 Head Coach, St. Thomas Middle School (Chicago)
- 1981-83 Head Coach, Chicago One Stop (Pro-Am League)
- 1983- Assistant Coach, University of Illinois

Mark Bial

Assistant Coach

A Danville, Ill., native, Bial earned his bachelor's degree at the University of Illinois, and along the way began his association with Lou Henson and the Fighting Illini basketball program. He worked as a student assistant coach with the Fighting Illini basketball team during the 1975-76 season, Henson's first at Illinois.

Following his graduation from Illinois in 1976 with a B.S. in physical, Bial began his coaching career at Schlarman High School, his alma mater, as an assistant coach (1976-77). He then returned to the UI as a part-time coach (1977-79).

Bial worked as coach and athletic director at Northland College in Ashland, Wis., from 1979-82. From 1982-1987, he was at the University of Southern Indiana in Evansville, where he served as assistant coach, head coach and athletic director. He compiled a 55-31 record as the head coach from 1985-88. In 1985 and 1987 Bial's teams finished third in the NCAA Division II Tournament, and in 1987 he was voted the Great Lakes Valley Conference coach of the year.

Prior to accept his position as Illinois, was as head coach at Parkland College in Champaign. In his only year (1993-94) at Parkland, the Cobras went 28-8 and finished seventh in the National Junior College Athletic Association Division II Tournament, earning him NJCAA District IV and Region 24 coach of the year honors.

Bial, who earned his M.S. in physical education from Indiana State in 1985, entered private business in 1988 before starting his own company, A-1 Polymers, Inc.

At Illinois, Bial's responsibilities consist of practice preparation, opponent scouting, developing game plans and academic monitoring.

He and his wife, Janet, live in Urbana and have two daughters, Brittany and Bailey.

Scott Frisina

Administrative Assistant

Starting his first year as administrative assistant is Scott Frisina.

The Taylorville, Ill., native will serve the Illini in a variety of ways, including managing the team's video scouting program, as well as the academic monitoring system. He will also assist with equipment and facility management, travel coordination, promotions and public relations.

Frisina also will be involved in the administration of the various Fighting Illini boys' summer basketball camps.

Frisina earned a bachelor's degree in history and secondary education from Augustana College (Rock Island, Ill.) in 1993 and a master's degree in curriculum and instruction at the University of Illinois in May 1995. While at Augustana, Frisina lettered in track and cross country for the Vikings.

Although new as administrative assistant, Frisina is not new to the Illinois basketball program. He coached at the 1995 Fighting Illini summer camps after serving the UI as a basketball manager for the 1994 and 1995 seasons while he was working on his master's degree. He also coached one year at Edison Junior High School in Rock Island with the seventh-grade team, compiling a record of 8-7.

Nicknamed "Rat," Frisina is single and lives in Champaign.

The Bial Resume

- 1976-77 Assistant Coach, Danville Schlarman High School
- 1977-79 Assistant Coach, University of Illinois
- 1979-82 Head Coach/Athletic Director, Northland College
- 1982-85 Assistant Coach, Southern Indiana
- 1985-88 Head Coach/Athletic Director, Southern Indiana
- 1993-94 Head Coach, Parkland College
- 1994- Assistant Coach, University of Illinois

Division of Intercollegiate Athletics Staff

Rick Allen
Assistant Athletic Director/Compliance

Rick Allen has served as assistant athletic director since 1987. He is primarily responsible for Big Ten and NCAA rules education and compliance. He also directs summer employment for University athletes and assists with home event management in football and basketball.

Allen earned his undergraduate degree from Cornell College (Iowa) in 1979. He has been with the University of Illinois since 1980, when he worked with marketing/promotions and event management as a graduate intern. He received a master's degree in athletic administration from Western Illinois University in 1985.

A native of Onslow, Iowa, Allen and his wife, Julie, have one son and live in Champaign.

Dana Brenner
Associate Director of Athletics

As associate director of athletics, Dana Brenner is responsible for facility and event management, and supervision of numerous varsity sports.

Brenner came to Illinois as assistant ticket manager in 1980. He had previously held a similar post at the Cal-State Fullerton. Brenner was promoted to assistant director in charge of events in 1984 before assuming his current role in 1989.

A Lompoc, Calif., native, Brenner graduated from the University of Pacific in 1976. He and his wife, Kathy, live in Champaign with their three daughters.

Rod Cardinal
Athletic Trainer

Rod Cardinal was appointed assistant athletic trainer at the University in July 1973. In addition to being head basketball trainer, Cardinal also works with football and men's and women's tennis.

Prior to his appointment at Illinois, he served in a similar capacity at the U.S. Military Academy.

A native of Blaine, Minn., Cardinal graduated from Southwest State University in 1971 with a B.S. in health and physical education. He was a student trainer in high school, and a student trainer in college for three years prior to his West Point position. He also played varsity basketball in college.

Cardinal earned a master's degree in 1977 from Illinois in physical education and sports medicine with an additional emphasis in educational administration.

Cardinal, along with his wife, Mary, have three children and reside in Tolono. Their youngest son, Brian, is a freshman on the Purdue basketball team after earning all-state honors at Unity High School in 1995.

Lynn Chaney
Academic Counselor

Lynn Chaney is in her seventh year as academic counselor at the University of Illinois. In addition to her duties with the basketball team, she also oversees the academic progress of the Fighting Illini football team.

For the past seven years, Chaney has been a member of the National Association of Athletic Academic Advisors. She currently is developing a program to assist prospective student-athletes, their parents, high school counselors and coaches with the recruiting process.

Chaney lives in Champaign with her husband, Jeff.

David L. Chicoine, Ph.D.
Faculty Representative

David L. Chicoine has served as faculty representative since 1989, and as a member of the Athletic Board since 1988. He is responsible for representing the University with the Big Ten Conference and at NCAA conventions. He deals with regulations and legislation at both levels. Basketball Secretaries

Dorothy Damewood
Administrative Secretary

Dorothy Damewood is in her 39th year working in the University of Illinois athletic department and her 22nd in the men's basketball office.

She began her career at the UI in November 1957 working as a secretary in the Athletic Association business office before moving to the men's basketball office in 1974 under Gene Bartow. Damewood has the longest tenure of any employee currently working in the DIA.

Originally born in Sweden, Damewood grew up in Evergreen Park, Ill., before graduating from Calumet High School. Her duties as Henson's administrative secretary include keeping the coach's personal schedule and helping with travel arrangements.

Damewood has two brothers, Roger and Don, and a sister, Nancy. She resides in Champaign.

Sue Winter
Secretary

Sue Winter is in her third year as a secretary in the Fighting Illini basketball office. Her duties include helping assistant coach Dick Nagy maintain the Illini recruiting data base and keeping track of NCAA compliance forms that deal with recruiting. Winter also helps organize the annual Fighting Illini summer camp program.

Winter is a native of Los Gatos, Calif., and received her associate's degree in general studies at Irvine Valley College in Irvine, Calif. She is currently taking classes toward a bachelor's degree at Eastern Illinois University.

Winter's grandmother, Kay Holman, is a native of Great Bend, Kan., and lived just two houses from assistant coach Dick Nagy when Nagy started the junior college basketball program at Barton County Community College in Great Bend in 1969. Winter's father-in-law, Rick Winter, served the U of I as a professor and head of the commerce department.

Winter's husband, Jeff, is an airplane mechanic at Nogle & Black Aviation in Tuscola and has his commercial pilot's license. The Winters reside in Champaign.

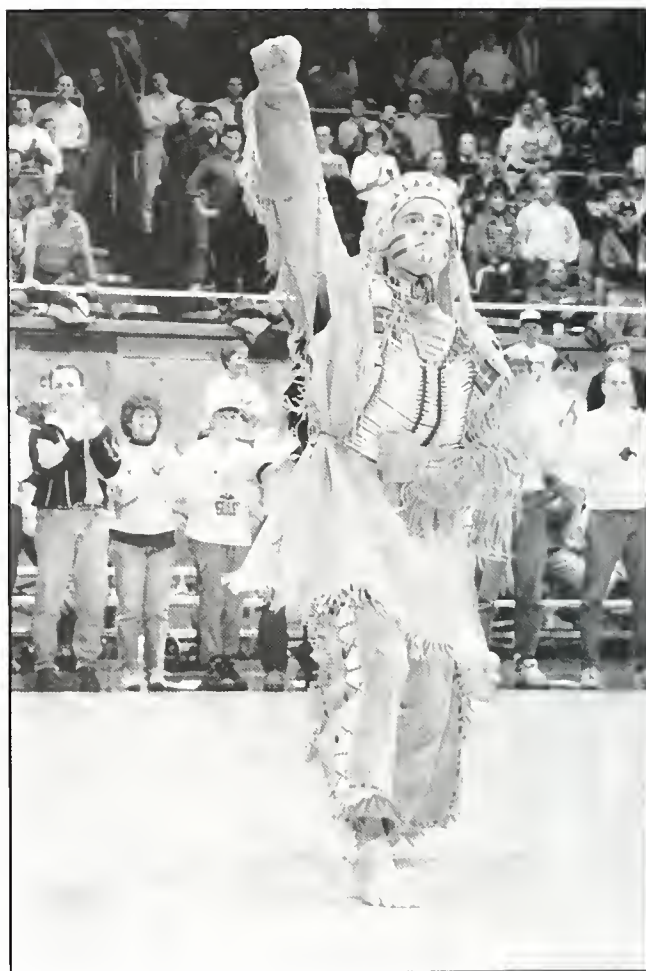

Chief Illiniwek

One of the most dramatic and dignified traditions in college athletics is the performance of Chief Illiniwek at the University of Illinois. Since 1926, this symbol has stirred pride and respect in audiences at Memorial Stadium and the Assembly Hall. Illiniwek (pronounced "ill-EYE-nih-wek") was the name of the loose confederation of Algonquin tribes that once lived in the region. The French changed the ending to "ois" in naming what became the state of Illinois.

Illiniwek means "they are men," and former Illinois football Coach Robert Zuppke is believed to have suggested calling the UI symbol Chief Illiniwek. In 1926, Assistant Band Director Ray Dvorak conceived the idea of performing an American Indian dance during halftime of the Illinois vs. Pennsylvania football game in Philadelphia. Lester Leutwiler, a student interested in Indian lore, was chosen for the role. Leutwiler's performance, done in a homemade costume, was received so well that he was asked to continue his dance through the 1928 season.

Webber Borchers, the second Chief Illiniwek, was the first to appear in authentic American Indian regalia. He initiated a campaign to raise money to replace his homemade outfit with an authentic one, but with the Depression on, he received just $15. However, a Champaign merchant stepped in to fund the rest and Borchers was off. He recalled: "In the summer of 1930 I went, at my own expense, to the Pine Ridge Reservation in South Dakota. I hitchhiked out, called an Indian agent and explained my mission. He and an Indian trader called in an older Sioux Indian woman. She and two younger women made the suit."

On Nov. 8, 1930 in New York's Yankee Stadium, Illinois faced Army in the seventh game of the season. It was there that Borchers made the first appearance of Chief Illiniwek in that outfit. Since then, five different authentic outfits have been used by Chief Illiniwek. The one used in performances now was purchased in 1983 from Sioux Chief Frank Fools Crow, and is topped by a head-dress of turkey feathers.

Chief Illiniwek appears at all home men's basketball games, as well as football games and women's basketball games.

Meeting the Fighting Illini

A Look at the 1995-96 Fighting Illini

After setting a school record for three-point field goals and attempts in 1994-95, Lou Henson's Fighting Illini will once again depend on strong perimeter play in the coming season.

Kiwane Garris (6-2, Jr.) and Richard Keene (6-6, Sr.) return as one of the Big Ten's top backcourts. Along with Jerry Hester (6-6, Jr.), the Illini should have one of the nation's top three-point shooting clubs. Jerry Gee (6-8, So.), Brett Robisch (6-11, So.) and Chris Gandy (6-9, Jr.) return as Henson's top interior players. And, Bryant Notree (6-5, So.), Kevin Turner (6-2, So.), Matt Heldman (6-0, So.) and Brian Johnson (6-6, So.) will no longer be freshman coming off the bench. Add recruit Ryan Blackwell (6-8, Fr.), a Parade Magazine All-American, and Henson has the makings of another team that will make some noise in the Big Ten and bid for a shot at the NCAA tourney.

"Our team should be better offensively than we were last year," Henson said. "We are still a little bit on the young side, and that could be a factor with this team. We have one senior in Richard Keene, and of course, six sophomores. But, I do think we have enough experience to be a good basketball team this season. We should be better offensively. We're a year older, and I think we should have a good, competitive basketball team."

Backcourt

Expect Lou Henson to build a large portion of his offense around junior guard Kiwane Garris, who led the Fighting Illini in scoring (15.9 ppg), assists (3.8 apg), steals (1.2 spg), free-throw shooting (.831) and minutes played (33.5 mpg) in 1995. He earned first-team All-Big Ten honors from Basketball Weekly, second-team All-Big Ten mention from the league's coaches and third-team recognition from the media. Garris is one of just two Big Ten players named to the Wooden Award preseason watch list along with Iowa's Jess Settles.

"We expect Kiwane to have a very good season, but he will have more help this year," Henson continued. "He's one of the top players in the Big Ten, but he won't have to carry the whole load because we expect to have balanced scoring. I don't think anybody on our team will score a lot of points because we have better, experienced shooters than a year ago."

Henson expects Garris to see more time on the wing where he can maximize his outstanding scoring skills. Garris, a tremendous free-throw shooter who set a UI record with 39 straight in 1995, stands second behind only Deon Thomas (991 points) among Illinois scorers after their sophomore seasons with 910 points. Garris is also strong from the three-point arc, shooting 39 percent on treys in 1995.

Kiwane Garris returns for his junior year after leading the Illini in five statistical categories last year, including scoring.

"The Big Ten is really balanced this season. Some people are saying the Big Ten is down as a conference, but I look at it that everyone is reloading. There is never an easy game once you get into conference play, and after being around the Big Ten for 20 years, I know that you need to come ready to play every night. There's just too much talent in the league to take a night off."

- Head Coach Lou Henson

Senior Richard Keene returns as Illinois' all-time three-point field goal leader with 168 treys, 10th all-time in the Big Ten and most among returning conference players this season. He was Illinois' third-leading scorer in 1995 (10.9 ppg), fourth-leading rebounder (3.8 rpg) and was second in assists (3.6 apg). Keene topped 100 assists for the second consecutive year and stands ninth on the Illinois career assists list with 297. Henson expects Keene to see more time at the top of the Illini offense, where, as Illinois' best passer, he is most dangerous.

"Almost everyone was around all summer and played every day. I look for us to pressure teams more and try to run more than we have the past couple of seasons. We've got some guys back who have been through the Big Ten at least once and know what to expect each and every night. This team has a number of guys who can come in and do the job."

- Junior Kiwane Garris

"Richard is our only senior," Henson said. "He has plenty of experience and will be one of our top players. We'll probably let Kiwane bring the ball down the court because of his outstanding ball-handling ability, but you will see Richard Keene at the point because he sees the floor well and does a good job of delivering the ball. He has proven that he can shoot the three-pointer, and he adds a lot to our offense when he is on."

Sophomore Kevin Turner is an outstanding shooter who came off the bench with some big points in 1995. He is expected to rotate with Keene and Garris among the two guard positions, especially on the wing where he is a dangerous three-point shooter.

Sophomore Matt Heldman saw limited action in 21 games last year, but is an outstanding shooter who will spell Garris and Keene at either guard spot.

"Kevin Turner and Matt Heldman may have improved more than any of the other players on the team over the summer," Henson said. "Kevin is really an outstanding shooter who can score points quickly, and Matt has come back in the fall in great shape and should provide quality relief off the bench."

"When you look at our perimeter this season, we not only have experienced players like Kiwane Garris, Richard Keene and Jerry Hester, we have depth, which we didn't have last year," Henson said. "We have more experienced players who can come off the bench and do a good job for us."

Frontcourt

Jerry Hester is Henson's only returning starter on the front line with the graduation of forward Robert Bennett (8.5 ppg/6.2 rpg) and center Shelly Clark (11.3 ppg/8.3 rpg). Hester was Illinois' fourth-leading scorer (10.3 ppg) and third-leading rebounder (4.8 rpg) in 1995, while shooting a team-high 40 percent from three-point range, and 46 percent on all shots. Henson expects Hester to carry more of the scoring and rebounding load next season.

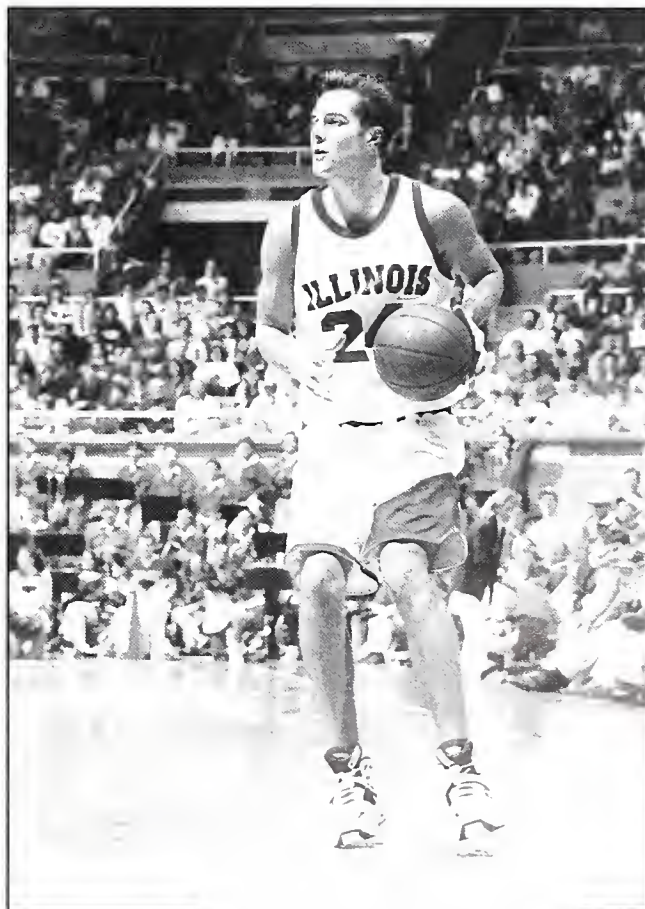

"Jerry Hester should be a much improved player," Henson said. "He's matured as a player and should be one of our leaders. He can score from the perimeter as well as driving to the basket. He was playing much better at the end of last season and we expect him to carry that over to this season."

Sophomore Jerry Gee was Illinois' first frontcourt player off the bench in 1995 and should now replace Bennett at power forward while alternating with Robisch in the post. Gee averaged 6.0 points and 3.4 rebounds for the season, but nearly 9.0 points off the bench over the final eight games of the season. He gives the Illini more scoring range from the power forward slot and will need to pick up much of the rebounding slack with the loss of Bennett and Clark.

"Jerry Gee has improved tremendously over last year," Henson said. "He can definitely shoot the ball, and he needs to be force on the boards. With the loss of Bennett and Clark on the front line, Jerry needs to lead us on the boards. His interior defense also will be key to our whole defensive effort."

Redshirt sophomore Brett Robisch showed excellent improvement in the final weeks of the 1995 season and is expected to battle for the starting center spot in the coming season. Robisch shot 59 percent from the field and has excellent range out to the three-point arc.

A three-year starter and three-point specialist, senior guard Richard Keene is Illinois' all-time leading three-point shooter.

Junior Jerry Hester is the Fighting Illini's only returning starter on the front line.

"One of big differences from last year to this year is that last year our two inside people gave us strength inside and scoring," Henson said. "This year, our big guys can score from the perimeter, and that will open up the offense considerably. As for rebounding, everyone will have to pick up a few more to take up the slack of losing Clark and Bennett from last year.

"Brett Robisch really came on at the end in practice last season and he is very dangerous offensively with his shooting range," Henson continued. "Teams will have to respect him clear out to the three-point line. Brett needs to continue to work on his strength and rebounding."

Sophomore Bryant Notree, who missed a major portion of last year's preseason practice time clearing up his transcript with the NCAA Clearinghouse, will be with the team from the beginning this time and should be a major contributor at as many as three positions. Notree can play shooting guard, small forward and may also take his powerful body down low to the power forward slot when Henson wants to use a "fast" team.

"All the guys worked really hard over the summer and showed up in good shape. We're focused on doing the things that will make this a successful season. Our strength is the experience that we have coming back. Only one guy hasn't played before, so our bench should be much better. We'll have just one freshman instead of six like last season. With the lack of size, we'll be playing more of an up-tempo game that plays to our strength."

- Senior Richard Keene

"Bryant is much improved over last season," Henson said. "He is a very versatile player who should really help us this year. He has continued to work on his shooting and defense, and if he continues to improve, has a great future at Illinois."

Red-shirt junior Chris Gandy started seven games for the Illini early in the 1994-95 season, but saw limited action as the season progressed. An excellent shooter, shown by his 56 percent field goal shooting, Gandy lost some weight during the summer and came back in the fall playing very well. He should join Gee, Robisch and Blackwell in filling out the front line.

"Chris Gandy has seen an opportunity to play with the loss of Bennett and Clark," Henson said. "He lost some weight over the summer which will help his quickness, and we know what kind of shooter he is. Chris is someone we'll watch very closely during the preseason drills."

Red-shirt sophomore Brian Johnson averaged nearly eight minutes per game off the bench and should once again back up Hester and Notree at the small forward position.

"Brian Johnson came off the bench and helped us at times last year," Henson said. "He will come into a game and not make a lot of mistakes."

Freshman Ryan Blackwell also be a force on Henson's front line. A Parade Magazine All-American as a senior, Blackwell has the shooting range and ball-handling ability to play small forward or shooting guard, and the size (6-8, 207) to play inside. Blackwell could contend for

"Ryan Blackwell is the best 6-foot-8 player that I've ever seen at going to the basket," Henson said. "He has the potential to be a great player here at Illinois, and could help us immediately at a number of positions."

The Schedule

Illinois once again plays one of the nation's toughest schedules. On the slate in 1995-96 includes a return game with Duke, the annual Braggin' Rights game with Missouri in St. Louis, California, Kansas State and the Rainbow Classic that includes Syracuse, Massachusetts, North Carolina State, Southern Cal, Missouri, Rhode Island and Hawaii. Combine that with the always-tough Big Ten and you have the makings for a tough road to postseason play. But, the Illini have never backed down from a challenge.

"This is one of the toughest schedules we've played in a number of years, even more so than last year," Henson said. "Traditionally, we've always played tough teams, but this is even tougher than last year when our schedule was ranked as one of the nation's toughest.

The Illini/Pepsi Classic has three other quality teams in Southeast Missouri State from the Ohio Valley (Conference), San Jose State from the Big West and Ball State from the MAC," Henson continued. "Of course, Ball State went to the NCAA tournament last year and knocked off Arizona in the first round, so we know they have a real fine team."

Almost All-Illinois

For the fourth consecutive year, the Fighting Illini basketball roster is made up entirely of natives of the state of Illinois. Even though Ryan Blackwell is listed as coming from Pittsford, N.Y., he lived in Champaign-Urbana until moving to New York before his freshman year in high school. No other Big Ten team can boast the fact that all of its players are home-state products. Since 1988-89, 98 of the 103 players listed in the Illini media guides have hailed from Illinois.

All-Star Candidates

Junior point guard Kiwane Garris was given second-team All-Big Ten honors by Big Ten coaches in 1995 and should be a strong candidate for All-America honors in 1996.

Senior Richard Keene and junior Jerry Hester are also candidates for postseason honors. Garris is one of just two Big Ten players on the 25-man preseason watch list for the Wooden Award.

Banquet

The Champaign-Urbana Kiwanis Club is the annual host of the Fighting Illini Basketball Banquet held each spring. The 1996 Banquet will be the 74th hosted by Kiwanis.

Battle, Kenny

Kenny Battle put the Flying in the Flying Illini of 1989. One of college basketball's greatest dunkers, Battle transferred from Northern Illinois after his sophomore season and became one of just two players in NCAA history to score more than 1,000 points for two Division I schools. Battle scored 1,072 points for NIU in 1985 and 1986, and 1,112 points for the Illini in 1988 and 1989. Jon Manning did his scoring for Oklahoma City in 1975 and 1976, and North Texas State in 1978 and 1979. Battle's relentless effort in games and practices led to an award named in his honor by Coach Henson. Illini junior Jerry Hester has earned the award the past two seasons.

Blue Brothers

The popular Blues Brothers and their antics are a tradition at Fighting Illini home basketball games. The Blues Brothers are members of the Fighting Illini pep band and appear at a timeout during the second half of all home games.

Blimp

The Fighting Illini blimp will fly inside the Assembly Hall at UI home games for the third consecutive season in 1995-96. Making its debut in 1993-94, it inspired the manufacturing of a larger version for football, which appeared at Illinois' 1991 and 1995 home gridiron contests.

Boudreau, Lou

Baseball Hall of Famer Lou Boudreau played two varsity basketball seasons at Illinois (1937 and 1938) before embarking on a 15-year baseball career with the Cleveland Indians and Boston Red Sox. As a sophomore, Boudreau led the Illini in scoring as the team shared the Big Ten title. He became player-manager of the Indians at age 24 in 1942, and led Cleveland to the American League title. Along the way, he earned MVP honors by hitting .355 with 116 RBI in 1948.

Brundage, Avery

Avery Brundage lettered in basketball in 1907 and 1908 before competing in the 1912 Olympic games in the decathlon and pentathlon. He went on to become president of the AAU in the 1930s before becoming president of the International Olympic Committee from 1952-72.

Cheerleaders

Illinois' 16-member varsity cheerleading squad is coached for the first year by Stephanie Record. Record was an Illini cheerleader from 1991-93. Serving as captains for the 1995-96 squad are senior Sara Schieffer of Libertyville, Ill., and senior Christian Bryant of Spring Valley, Ill. In the spring of 1995, the Illinois cheerleaders finished ninth at the finals of the national cheerleading championships. Organized cheerleading began at Illinois in 1899 with "Red" Matthews, acknowledged by "Ripley's Believe It or Not" as the world's first acrobatic cheerleader.

Coaching Continuity

The Fighting Illini coaching staff, despite having second-year assistant coach Mark Bial, is the league's most experienced together as a unit. Lou Henson is in his 21st year with the Fighting Illini, while Dick Nagy is in his 17th year in Champaign, and Jimmy Collins returns for season No. 13 at Illinois. The staff's combined 53 years of coaching at Illinois leads Indiana, which is second, with a combined total of 50 years of experience as a staff. Henson has coached more basketball games than any other head mentor at Illinois; he is also the school's winningest coach.

Colors

Orange and navy blue became the official colors of the University of Illinois Nov. 1, 1894. Prior to that date, the school's unofficial colors were originally black and yellow, then Dartmouth green in 1892, in honor of former coach E.K. Hall. Illinois' official PMS colors are 281 (blue) and 158 (orange).

Combes, Harry

Harry Combes lettered for the Fighting Illini from 1935-37, twice leading Illinois to Big Ten titles. An All-Big Ten selection as a junior and senior, Combes succeeded Doug Mills as Illinois basketball coach in 1917, after a very successful career at Champaign High School. He led the Illini to Big Ten titles in three of his first five seasons. In 1949, 1951 and 1952, the Illini finished third at the NCAA tournament. Combes' 20-year coaching record at Illinois was 316-150, a mark that stood as the Illini record until broken by Lou Henson.

Eddleman, Dike

Dike Eddleman led Illinois in scoring in 1948 and 1949, earning second-team All-America honors from the Associated Press in 1948 and first-team All-America honors in 1949 from Converse. Eddleman is the only athlete in history to compete in the Rose Bowl (1947 as a punter and end for the Illini), the Final Four (1949) and the Olympics (tied for second in the high jump). He earned 11 letters during his Illinois career. Eddleman won the 1948 NCAA high jump title, as well as holds Illini football records for highest punting average in a season (43.0 in 1948), longest punt (88 vs. Iowa in 1948), punt return average in a season (32.8 in 1948) and longest punt return (92 vs. Western Michigan in 1947). He was named Big Ten Most Valuable Player in basketball in 1949. Eddleman played four seasons in the NBA and served the UI as executive director of the Fighting Illini Scholarship Fund from 1971-92.

Final Fours

Illinois has reached the NCAA Final Four a total of four times, the latest coming in 1989 with the Flying Illini led by Kenny Battle, Nick Anderson, Kendall Gill and Lowell Hamilton. The Illini finished third in NCAA tournaments in 1949, 1951 and 1952. The Big Ten Conference has sent more schools to the Final Four than any other conference with 33 entering the 1995-96 season.

Flying Illini

The 1988-89 Illinois squad earned the moniker "Flying Illini" with a high-flying, slam-dunking style of basketball. Kenny Battle, Nick Anderson, Kendall Gill, Lowell Hamilton, Steve Bardo, Marcus Liberty, Ervin Small and Larry Smith were the mainstays of the team that started the season with a 17-0 record and a No. 1 national ranking after defeating Georgia Tech in double-overtime Jan. 22 at the Assembly Hall. Gill suffered a broken foot near the end of that game and the Illini stumbled to three losses in the next four games. Gill would return before season's end and help lead the Flying Illini into the Final Four at Seattle.

Halas, George

The founder of the National Football League was a starting guard for the Illini team that won the Big Ten basketball title in 1917. He captained the 1918 squad before entering the armed forces for World War I. A charter member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, Halas compiled a 324-151-31 record as an NFL coach, guiding the Chicago Bears to seven NFL titles. Halas was also an end on the Illini football team and outfielder for the Illini baseball squad. He played one year with the New Yankees as a right fielder (he was replaced by Babe Ruth) before becoming the driving force in the birth of the NFL in 1920.

Illinois Loyalty

The University of Illinois' school song, "Illinois Loyalty," was first performed before the student body March 3, 1906. A newly hired English instructor from Brown University, Thatcher Howland Guild, brought the now legendary melody with him from Rhode Island to Champaign. Guild's original first line of lyrics ran "We're Loyal to You, Men of Brown."

George Halas, one of the founders of the NFL, was a starting guard for the Illinois basketball team in 1917.

Judson, Howie, Paul, Phil and Rob

Four different members of the Judson family wore Fighting Illini basketball uniforms during a 36-year period, starting in 1944 with Howard and ending in 1980 with Rob. Howie lettered in basketball in 1944 and 1945 before going on to a seven-year career in the Major Leagues with the Chicago White Sox and Cincinnati Reds, with whom he compiled a 17-37 record as a pitcher. Twins Paul and Phil earned a spot in Illinois high school lore when they led tiny Hebron High to the state championship in 1952. Paul finished his career as Illinois' second-leading career scorer and was named the UI's Athlete of the Year in 1955. Phil lettered from 1955-56. Phil's son, Rob, was a four-year letterman from 1977-80 and is the Illini's career free-throw percentage leader after making nearly 88 percent from the line.

Most Valuable Players

Four Fighting Illini players have won the Silver Basketball Trophy, given each year by the Chicago Tribune to the Most Valuable Player in the Big Ten. Prior to the Silver Basketball Trophy, Andy Phillip was named Most Valuable Player in 1943. The four to win the trophy: Dike Eddleman, 1949; Don Sunderlage, 1951; John Kerr, 1954; Jim Dawson, 1967.

National Champions

The Helms Foundation of Los Angeles, under the guidance of founder Bill Schroeder, chose national college champions from 1942-82, and researched retroactive No. 1 selections from 1901-41. Illinois, coached by Ralph Jones and led by Ray Woods, finished the 1915 season with a perfect 16-0 record to earn that season's recognition as national champions.

Rob Judson was the fourth member of his family to play basketball for the Illini.

Photography

Much of the photography in the Fighting Illini Basketball Media Guide, and for that matter, most Division of Intercollegiate Athletics publications, is taken through the lenses of Mark Jones, who owns the Tintype Photo Studio in Arthur, Ill. Jones has taken photos at UI athletic events since 1987.

Scholarship Fund

The Fighting Illini Scholarship Fund, directed by Ken Zimmerman and Steve Greene, benefits more than 350 student-athletes at the University of Illinois. There are six different levels of contributions (based on annual donations): the Tomahawk Club ($100 to $219), the Brave Club ($250 to $499), the Warrior Club ($500 to $999), the Chief Club ($1,000 to $2,999), the Tribal Council ($3,000 to $9,999) and the Loyalty Circle ($10,000 and above). Nearly 5,000 contributors donate more than $3 million annually to the FISE. For more information, call (217) 333-6595.

Senior

1995-96 will be the final collegiate season for only one Fighting Illini scholarship senior: Richard Keene.

Shoes

Converse supplies the shoes for the Fighting Illini basketball team. Coach Henson, who has been wearing Converse shoes for 56 seasons, speaks at Converse coaching clinics several times each year.

Stats Crew

The Illinois basketball statistics crew is headed by Pete Fletcher in the center of the Assembly Hall press box. The statistical system is connected to the White Way scoreboard matrix display, which inform fans and media alike of team and player stats throughout the game.

Two-Hundred Club

Lou Henson became just the fourth coach in Big Ten history to join the exclusive 200-Big Ten-victory Club when Illinois defeated Purdue, 62-58, at West Lafayette on Jan. 10, 1995. The other three men who have recorded more than 200 Big Ten wins during their distinguished coaching careers are all members of the Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Mass. The trio is made of Indiana's Bob Knight (304 wins), Purdue's Ward "Piggy" Lambert (228) and Indiana's Branch McCracken (210). Henson begins the 1995-96 season with 207 Big Ten wins.

Uniforms

Jerseys and pants for Fighting Illini basketball are supplied by Champion. Illinois wears either white or orange uniforms at home. On the road the team wears either navy or orange uniforms.

Upper Division

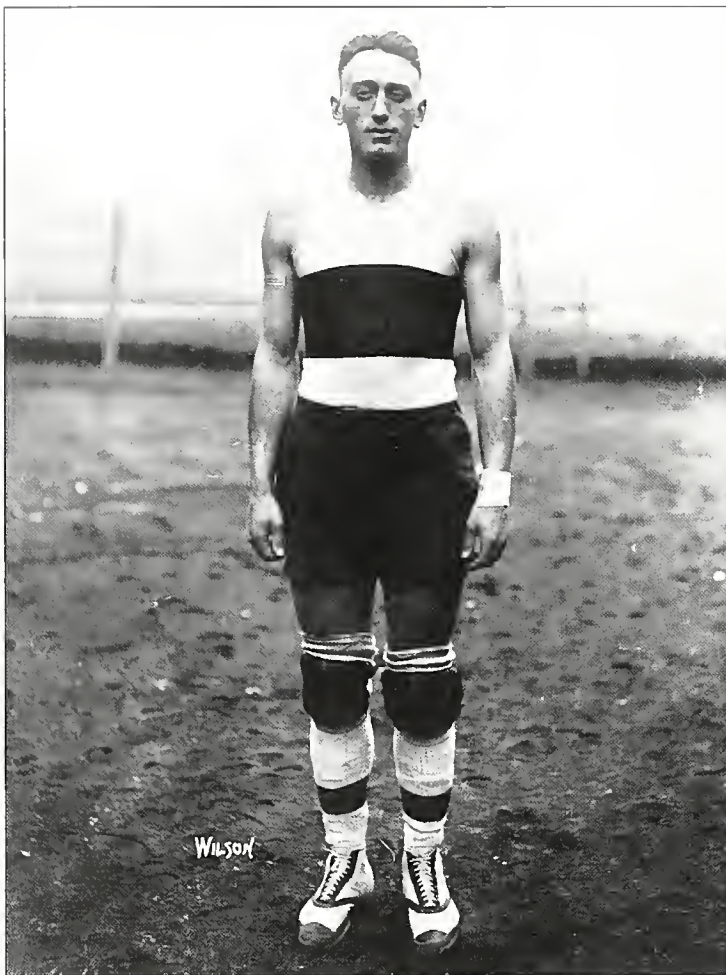

Illinois has finished in the upper half of the Big Ten Conference in 12 of the last 13 seasons. The 10-8 conference record posted by the Orange and Blue in 1994-95 earned the team a tie for fifth place (with Minnesota) in the league and a berth in the NCAA tournament. The Fighting Illini have appeared in the postseason extravaganza 12 times in the last 15 years.

Varsity I Association

Membership in the Varsity "I" Association is open to all current and former student-athletes who have been awarded a varsity letter at the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign. Former Fighting Illini football wide receiver Shawn Wax serves as director of the association, while former basketball/track letterman Ben Louis currently serves as president.

Varsity Room Staff

Fighting Illini players enjoy many of their meals during the school year at the Varsity Room, located in the southeast tower of Memorial Stadium. Barb Ward heads a crew that includes Kim Paris, Dorothy McKinney, Penny McKinney, Missy Smith, Cindy Birt and Pat Malloch.

Tug Wilson lettered on the Illinois basketball team from 1919-1920 and later became commissioner of the Big Ten Conference.

Varsity Sports

The University of Illinois' Division of Intercollegiate Athletics sponsors 17 varsity sports, nine for men and eight for women. The sports for men are baseball, basketball, cross country, golf, gymnastics, tennis, track and field and wrestling. The women's sports are basketball, cross country, golf, gymnastics, swimming, tennis, track and field, and volleyball.

Wilson, Tug

Tug Wilson won five varsity letters in basketball and track and field while at Illinois from 1917-20. A native of Atwood, Ill., Wilson went on to compete in the 1920 Olympics in the javelin and discus before entering a career in athletic administration. He spent 21 years as athletic director at Northwestern before becoming Big Ten Conference Commissioner from 1945-61.

Winning Program

The Illinois men's basketball program is second in the Big Ten in all-time conference victories. Coming into the 1995-96 campaign, the Illini have played more Big Ten games (1,246) than any other team. They trail Purdue by six games in all-time league wins (721-715) heading into the season. The Fighting Illini have had at least a .500 record in 79 of the 90 years the program has been in existence, including 32 consecutive years from 1929-60, the eighth-longest streak in NCAA history. The Illini have had a winning record in 18 of Lou Henson's 20 seasons, including 11 seasons with at least 20 wins.

Woods, Ray

Illinois' very first first-team All-American from 1915-17, Ray Woods led the Illini to a cumulative record of 42-6 during those three seasons, including an undefeated squad in 1915. He helped Illinois to Big Ten titles in 1915 and 1917 under coach Ralph Jones.

CARDINAL SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: After making their eighth postseason appearance in the last nine years in 1994-95, the Cardinals hope to continue their winning ways this year. BSU returns eight letterwinners from last year's team, which posted a 19-11 overall record. Leading the list of returners is 1995 MAC Freshman of the Year Bonzi Wells, who led the team in steals and was second in scoring, rebounding and assists. Other returning starters include 5-foot-10-inch guard Randy Zachary, who led the team in assists last year, and senior guard Marcus Norris.

GOLDEN BEARS SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: With back-to-back top five national recruiting classes and four returning starters, the Golden Bears come into this season in anticipation of a deep run into the NCAA tournament. Leading the Bears' interior attack will be senior forward Alfred Grigsby. Grigsby is considered Cal's best inside scorer and rebounder when healthy, but he's only played in 15 of his team's last 57 games. Playing alongside Grigsby at the other forward slot will be Pac-10 Freshman of the Year and first team freshman All-American Tremaine Fowlkes. Fowlkes averaged 13.4 ppg and a team-leading 6.7 rpg despite starting only nine games. Pacing the backcourt will be sophomore point guard Jelani Gardner, who returns after averaging 10.7 ppg and 6.5 apg to claim second team freshman All-America honors.

BLUE DEVILS SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: Last season Duke suffered through a season in which its 18 losses tied for the most in school history and its two ACC wins equaled the Blue Devils' least in the 12-year history of the league. In 1995, Duke is loaded with plenty of optimism, starting with the return of its all-time winningest coach, Mike Krzyzewski, who was absent from the sidelines for much of last year due to back surgery. Leading the backcourt will be junior All-America candidate Jeff Capel and sophomore Trajan Langdon. Capel led the team in assists, was second in scoring and hit 63 three-pointers, the fifth highest single season total in school history. Langdon played in all 31 games, averaging 11.3 ppg and connecting on 59 treys. The inside game will need to develop quickly after the graduation losses of NBA draft picks Cherokee Parks and Erik Meek, leaving them with a trio of junior Greg Newton, freshman Taymon Domzalski and senior Tony Moore.

PANTHERS SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: EIU lost three players who averaged in double figures when Derrick Landrus and Louis Jordan graduated, and Johnny Moore transferred. This means that the Panthers' success will again hinge on balanced scoring and how quickly the younger players blend with the veterans. Three-year starter Johnny Hernandez is the top returning scorer with 8.5 ppg. The point guard also averaged 4.3 apg, which was fourth best in the Mid-Continent Conference. Other returning starters are 6-foot-7-inch junior forward Michael Slaughter, who was fifth in the Mid-Con in rebounding, and 6-9 sophomore forward Eric Frankford, who broke Kevin Duckworth's school record for blocked shots in a season with 55.

FLAMES SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: With just two "impact" players returning to the lineup, coach Bob Hallberg has several question marks in his 1995-96 squad. Senior forward Johnelle Stone is the top returning man after averaging 13.9 ppg last year, while 6-foot-3-inch senior forward Shawn Harlan will lead the rebounding corps following his first season at UIC when he averaged 7.0 rpg. After those two players, the Flames have no other returnees with any game experience besides 6-6 senior Mike Lampley, who tore ligaments in his knee early last season. Leading the Flames' new recruit list are two junior college transfers, 6-6 David Greer and 6-7 Ricardo Hale, who should help UIC on the boards. Hallberg also signed two of Illinois' top high school prospects in Jason Strojinc from Buffalo Grove and Theandre Kimbrough from Zion-Benton.

HOOSIERS SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: The Hoosiers lost Alan Henderson and Pat Knight to graduation and Michael Hermon, who left school, but have three of their starters returning from last year's team. Leading the returnees for coach Bob Knight is 6-8 senior Brian Evans. Evans not only averaged 17.5 ppg and 6.5 rpg last season, but also led the team in assists with 101. Sophomore Andrae Patterson suffered a knee injury midway through last season and was not able to show what kind of player he can be until late in the year. The last of the returning starters is 6-2 sophomore Neil Reed. He separated his shoulder in November, but still managed to average 5.9 ppg and 2.5 apg. Also coming back for the Hoosiers 7-foot center Todd Lindeman, who spent most of last season coming off the bench. Aside from all their returning players, Indiana has four new recruits in 1995-96, three of which are junior college transfers.

HAWKEYES SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: Four starters return from an Iowa team that finished 21-12 overall, 9-9 in the Big Ten and made it to the third round of the NIT tournament in 1994-95. Potential is the key word for Tom Davis' Hawkeyes, as he claims three of the Big Ten's top five returning scorers in juniors Chris Kingsbury, Jess Settles and Andre Woolridge. Settles, the 1991 Big Ten Freshman of the Year, sat out Iowa's first seven games and saw only limited playing time due to a back injury until starting the final 10 games of the season. Kingsbury is Iowa's all-time three-point leader and hit nine treys in a single game twice in 1994-95 while averaging more than 21 ppg in the second half of the Big Ten schedule. Woolridge, a transfer from Nebraska, was second in assists in the conference averaging 5.8 per game. Bolstering the inside defense, an Iowa weakness last season, will be senior center Rush Millard, who was lost for most of the 1994-95 season due to injuries and eligibility problems.

WILDCATS SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: Three returning starters will be joined by four talented newcomers to form the nucleus of what head coach Tom Asbury believes will be a team much improved over last year's 12-15 squad. KSU has two junior college transfers: Gerald Eaker and Johnnie Williams. Eaker, who began his career at Ohio State before transferring to Southeastern Community College in Burlington, Iowa, is the first legitimate center the Wildcats can claim in more than a decade. Williams will be a force on the inside. Benefiting most from this inside help will be senior co-captain Tyrone Davis. Davis, a center last year, is more suited to play power forward. Helping to improve the team's shooting percentage will be senior point guard Elliot Hatcher and sophomore guard Mark Young. Hatcher was elected to the 1995 Big Eight All-Newcomer Team after transferring to the Wildcats from Grayson County (Texas) Junior College, and Young was named to last year's Big Eight All-Freshman team.

WOLVERINES SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: The 1994-95 season marked the end to the Fab Five era, but Steve Fisher's Wolverines boast a pile of young and versatile talent that hopes to improve on last year's 17-14 record and early exit from the NCAA tournament. Leading the way is senior point guard Dugan Fife, but Fife is the only upperclassman on a team in which eight of the 10 scholarship players are either freshman or sophomores. One of those sophomores, however, is last year's Big Ten Freshman of the Year, power forward Maurice Taylor. Taylor averaged 12.5 points per game to go along with 5.1 rebounds and will be joined in the front court by either Jerod Ward or Willie Mitchell at the small forward. Mammoth freshman center Robert Traylor will be a force on the inside while freshman sharpshooter Louis Bullock rounds out the back court.

SPARTANS SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: A new era in the history of Michigan State men's basketball takes place in 1995-96 when Tom Izzo takes over the head coaching reigns from Jud Heathcote, who retired after 21 years of coaching. Ten returning letterwinners, including three starters, come back from a team that went 22-6 last. The Spartans will be strong up front with the return of starting center Jamie Feick, ranked third in the conference in rebounding, and senior forwards Quinton Brooks and Daimon Beathea, and junior Jon Garavaglia, all of whom started at some time last year. Brooks gears up for his third year as a starter and is the Spartan's top returning scorer. Despite the experience represented up front, Izzo will have the tough task of trying to fill the void of the graduated backcourt tandem of Shawn Respert and Eric Snow.

GOLDEN GOPHERS SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: Despite losing five senior letterwinners from last year, head coach Clem Haskins expects his 1995-96 Minnesota team to have more talent than any other team in recent history. One of the top young centers in the Big Ten returns in junior John Thomas. Seven-foot junior center Trevor Winter returns to back up Thomas and could start at the position. Senior forward and team captain David Grim returns for his final campaign, and should continue to be a threat from behind the three-point arc. The top returning scorer is sophomore Sam Jacobson, who averaged 7.7 points per game.

TIGERS SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: Kelly Thames, the 1993 Big Eight Freshman-of-the-Year is back to lead Missouri in 1995-96, after suffering a season-ending knee injury last year, and the Tigers are missing only one gun from last year's arsenal. Thames will be counted on as the main man in the Missouri offense after averaging 12.1 ppg and 7.1 rpg in his first season. The other big wheel in the Tiger offense will be senior swingman Julian Winfield, who returns after averaging 11.1 ppg and 7.6 rpg. The Tigers also bring back another versatile player in junior forward Derek Grimm. At the guard positions, junior Jason Sutherland and sophomore point guard Kendrick Moore return to make up a solid backcourt for the Tigers. Up front, Missouri will once again be tall with 7-foot twins Sammie and Simeon Haley coming back.

WILDCATS SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: The biggest obstacle facing third-year coach Ricky Byrdson as his Wildcats strive to improve on last year's 5-22 record, is the lack of veteran experience on the team. Just three seniors return with only center Dan Kreft lettering at least twice. Joining Kreft are seniors Brian Chamberlain, a starter at the power forward slot, and reserve guard Craig Duerksen. Leading the team will be sophomore point guard Geno Carlisle. Carlisle started 20 games last year as a true freshman and led the team in assists (3.9 pg.) and minutes played (29.6 pg.). He is the team's leading returning scorer (11.7 pg.). Working in the front court with Chamberlain will be junior center Ewen Eschmeyer and sophomore small forward Darreion Dean. Rounding out the youth movement will be freshmen guards Julian Bonner, Nick Knapp and Nate Pomeday and freshman forwards Matt Moran and Joe Harmon.

BUCKEYE SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: The Buckeyes come into this season with one of the youngest teams in the Big Ten. Eight true freshmen, a red-shirt freshman and three sophomores dominate a roster that includes just two juniors and one senior. Senior forward Rick Yudt is the lone returning starter and is the leading scorer and rebounder among OSU's returnees. Also coming back is Carlos Davis, a sophomore guard who was second on the team in assists last year. Sophomore John Lumpkin should add some meat in the middle at 6-foot-9-inches, 250 pounds. Lumpkin is on a football scholarship and will rejoin the team in January as he did last year. A majority of the playing time, however, will fall on the shoulders of the Buckeyes' newcomers.

NITTANY LIONS SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: Last year Penn State made it to the third round of the NIT, and the Lions believe their 1995-96 team has the talent to make it to the Big Dance. Losing team leader John Amaechi will make that task difficult, but four of the team's top five scorers return. Junior point guard Dan Earl takes charge at the point and will be joined in the backcourt by sophomore Pete Lisicky. Earl set a school record with 181 assists last year and is set to become one of the best playmakers in the Big Ten. Glenn Sekunda, the team's leading returning scorer at 12.8 per game, will play at small forward, while the power forward spot will be manned by 6-8, 265-pound "Big House" Phil Williams.

BOILERMAKERS SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: Going for a three-peat as Big Ten Conference champion is no easy task but 17-year head coach Gene Keady likes his chances for the 1995-96 season. Three of these seniors, Todd Foster, Roy Hairston and Herb Dove, will be called upon to replace two players central to last season's success in team MVP and All-Big Ten forward Caonzo Martin and guard Matt Waddell, both who were lost to graduation. Additional front court help will be provided by senior power forward Brandon Brantley and sophomore center Matt ten Dam. Freshman forward Brian Cardinal is the son of Illinois Basketball trainer Red Cardinal.

SPARTANS SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: The good news for the San Jose State University basketball team is that four of its five starters from last year's squad are back for the 1995-96 season. The Spartans' inside game is led by senior Roy Hammonds, who missed last season due to knee surgery, and senior Sam Allen, a transfer from Washington and member of the 1994 Pac-10 Conference all-newcomer team. Also playing inside will be senior Darren Greene, who led the team in rebounding a year ago and should start this year at small forward. Michigan transfer Olivier Saint-Jean becomes eligible for the sixth game of the season and should see some time playing in the paint. Running the team at point guard will be senior Tito Addison. Joining him in the backcourt will be senior Brad Quinet, the only player to average in double figures in scoring for the Spartans last year.

INDIAN SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: With only one senior and two juniors on the 13-man roster, Southeast Missouri State will have an inexperienced team for the 1995-96 season. Last year six seniors generated 82 percent of the scoring, 69 percent of the rebounding and 65 percent of the assists on the Indian team that finished 13-14 overall. The only returning starter is senior Jerome Days, who made the Ohio Valley Conference all-newcomer team last year after averaging 9.1 ppg and 5.3 rpg. He will be joined by junior college transfers Brad Brown, a point guard, and swingman Reginald Crisp. Another junior college transfer, Terry Mills, is a strong inside player who will help out in the paint. In addition to Mills, William "Bud" Eley will man the post this year after sitting out last year. Sophomores Chris Chambers, who can play either point or off-guard, and Anthony Holt gained valuable playing time as freshmen last year and should stabilize the backcourt.

ROADRUNNERS SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: When new UTSA head coach Tim Carter steps into his first huddle, he will be looking into the eyes of a battle-tested group of players that includes 10 returning lettermen. Four-fifths of the Roadrunners starting lineup will come back in 1995-96, giving Carter some pieces to work with. Marlon Anderson, a senior guard/forward, tops the list. The only non-senior on the Southland Conference first-team all-conference squad, Anderson was the team's top rebounder with 7.1 rpg and was also the No. 3 scorer in the SLC, averaging 20.8 ppg and scoring 20-or-more points in 18 games. At the small forward will be senior Martin Whitfield, who started five games last year and averaged 3.2 ppg. Cody Johnson, who averaged 11.7 ppg and 6.1 rpg, should start at power forward. Tom Oswald, who tied for the team lead in blocked shots with 12, and Marcus Banks will fill the vacancy at center.

BADGERS SCOUTING REPORT

Outlook: New Badger coach Dick Bennett inherits a program with one returning starter from a team that finished 13-11 overall, a lone senior with a single year of Division I experience after transferring into Madison his junior year, and six incoming freshmen. Of the 14 athletes on the roster, 11 are either true freshmen or sophomores. The Badgers are deepest at guard with junior Darnell Hoskins, the lone returning starter at the point, leading the way. Sophomores Sean Mason and Mosezell Peterson join Hoskins in what will likely be a three-man backcourt. The frontcourt is thin, featuring senior O-sita Nwachukwu and sophomore Sean Daugherty. Daugherty is the most experienced of the forwards after playing in 26 games last season, including five starts. Nwachukwu averaged 2.6 points and 2.8 rebounds in 27 games during the 1994-95 season.

About the 1995-96 Opponents

Holiday in Hawaii

The Fighting Illini will be making their seventh trip to Hawaii when they play in the Rainbow Classic Dec. 27-30. Illinois won Rainbow Classic championships in 1979 and 1988, and finished sixth in 1976. The 1979 championship win came over eventual 1980 national champion Louisville, while the 1988 title was the Silver Anniversary of the tournament and included wins over Tulsa and Georgia Tech. The Illini defeated eventual national champ Kansas at the 1987 Maui Classic. Illinois beat Duke to win the 1986 BYU-Hawaii Classic.

All-time, the Illini are 11-4 on the Islands. Other Big Ten schools making the trip to Hawaii this season are Michigan State to the Maui Classic and Minnesota to the Big Island Invitational over Thanksgiving.

The television schedule at the Rainbow Classic will include five games, with Illinois-Syracuse on ESPN2, the championship semifinals and third-place game on ESPN and the championship game on ESPN.

The following is Illinois' history in Hawaii:

- Dec. 29-30, 1976 Rainbow Classic (lost to Houston, def. William & Mary, lost to St. John's)
- Dec. 28-29, 1979 Rainbow Classic (def. Army, def. Louisville)
- Nov. 29-30, 1985 Hawaii Classic (def. Hawaii-Loa, lost to Oklahoma)
- Nov. 28-29, 1986 BYU-Hawaii Classic (def. New Mexico State, def. Duke)
- Nov. 27-29, 1987 Maui Classic (def. Baylor, lost to Villanova, def. Kansas)
- Dec. 28-30, 1988 Rainbow Classic (def. Tulsa, def. Georgia Tech, def. Hawaii)

Inter-Conference Affairs

Illinois could play opponents from as many as 12 different conferences, depending on what transpires in the Illini/Pepsi Classic and Rainbow Classic. Potential opponents come from the Atlantic Coast Conference (Duke, North Carolina State), Atlantic 10 (UMass, Rhode Island), Big East (Syracuse), Big Eight (Kansas State, Missouri), Big West (San Jose State), Mid-American (Ball State), Mid-Continent (Eastern Illinois), Midwestern Collegiate (Illinois-Chicago), Ohio Valley (Southeast Missouri State), Pac-10 (California, Southern Cal), Southland (Texas-San Antonio) and Western Athletic (Hawaii).

First-time opponents would include UMass, Rhode Island, San Jose State and Southeast Missouri State. Only Southeast Missouri State is guaranteed to play Illinois. The others would depend on results at the two tournaments.

The 600 Club

Lou Henson will face two other coaches who belong to the illustrious 600-win club. Missouri's Norm Stewart begins the 1995-96 season with 660 victories while Indiana's Bob Knight begins the season with 659 wins. Coaches approaching 500 wins include Illinois-Chicago's Bob Hallberg (begins season with 474 wins), Iowa's Tom Davis (458), Syracuse's Jim Boeheim (454), Duke's Mike Krzyewski (431) and Southeast Missouri State's Ron Shumate (425).

The Big Dance

Nine 1995-96 opponents played in the 1995 NCAA Tournament: Syracuse, Ball State, Missouri and UMass, along with Big Ten foes Indiana, Michigan, Michigan State, Minnesota and Purdue.

We've Been There Before

The following is a list of 1996 NCAA Tournament sites where Illinois has previously played:

- Providence Civic Center, Providence, R.I., 1985 regional semifinal
- RCA Dome, Indianapolis, 1989 first and second rounds
- Bradley Center, Milwaukee, 1984 second round
- Rupp Arena, Lexington, Ky., 1984 regional semifinal and final, 1978 Kentucky Invitational
- Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome, Minneapolis, 1989 regional semifinal and final

The following is a list of future NCAA Tournament sites where Illinois will play in 1995-96:

- United Center, Chicago, 1998 Midwest Regional first and second rounds
- Kiel Center, St. Louis, 1998 Midwest Region semifinals and final

Former National Champs

Eight potential opponents on the 1995-96 Fighting Illini schedule are former national champs. Duke, California and North Carolina State are the non-conference teams that have hoisted the banner, while national champs from the Big Ten include Indiana, Michigan, Michigan State, Ohio State and Wisconsin.

The Big Ten Conference

A meeting of seven Midwest university presidents Jan. 11, 1895, at the Palmer House in Chicago, was the first development of what would become one of organized sports' most successful undertakings. Those seven men, behind the leadership of James H. Smart, president of Purdue University, established the principles for which the Intercollegiate Conference of Faculty Representatives, more popularly known as the Big Ten Conference, would be founded.

The Big Ten Conference is celebrating its 100th anniversary during the 1995-96 school year. The Conference, as well as its member institutions, are commemorating the historic birthday with ceremonies and events throughout the year.

At that meeting, a blueprint for the control and administration of college athletics under the direction of appointed faculty representatives was outlined. The presidents' first known action was to "restrict eligibility for athletics to bonafide, full-time students who were not delinquent in their studies." That important legislation, along with others that would follow in the coming years, served as the primary building block for amateur intercollegiate athletics.

Eleven months after the presidents' meeting, one faculty member from each of those seven universities met again at the Palmer House, and officially established the mechanics of the "Intercollegiate Conference of Faculty Representatives," or "Big Ten Conference" or "Western Conference."

The seven universities were: the University of Chicago, the University of Illinois, the University of Michigan, the University of Minnesota, Northwestern University, Purdue University and the University of Wisconsin. Indiana University and the State University of Iowa were admitted in 1899. Ohio State joined in 1912. Chicago withdrew in 1946, and Michigan State College (now Michigan State University) was added three years later in 1949.

After a 40-year period of constancy in membership, the Big Ten recently expanded to 11 members for the first time. On June 4, 1990, the Council of Ten, comprised of Big Ten university presidents, voted to confirm its earlier decision to integrate Pennsylvania State University into the conference. The Nittany Lions begin play in the Big Ten Conference in 1992-93.

At the turn of the century, faculty representatives established rules for intercollegiate athletics that were novel for the time. As early as 1906, the faculty approved legislation that required eligible athletes to meet entrance requirements and to have completed a full year's work, along with having one year of residence. Freshmen and graduate students were not permitted to compete, training tables (or quarters) were forbidden, and coaches were to be appointed by university bodies "at modest salaries."

Football and baseball were the popular sports prior to 1900. The first "official" sponsored championship was in outdoor track; it was held at the University of Chicago in 1906 and won by Michigan.

Since then, there have been many different athletic events popularized on Big Ten campuses. Some, like football and basketball, became extremely popular, while others, like boxing, fell by the wayside. Today, the Big Ten sponsors 12 championships for men and 12 for women.

1994-95 in Review

1994-95 Season in Review

Illini finish in upper half of Big Ten, advance to NCAAs

The 1994-95 basketball season started much the same way the past few seasons have for Illinois. The Illini were expected to be one of the better teams in the nation and were ranked No. 25 in the AP preseason poll.

Illinois' season began with an eligibility controversy. Freshman Bryant Notree's initial eligibility was threatened in October because of a question on the validity of one of his high school courses. As a result Notree was not allowed to begin practice with the team. Finally the NCAA Clearinghouse reinstated Notree in November.

The Illini got a scare in their first game at the San Juan Shootout in Puerto Rico when they found themselves trailing American University, an NCAA Division III school, for most of the first half. Illinois rallied in the second half to win the game, 89-87. Kiwane Garris and Robert Bennett led the way tallying 17 and 14 points, respectively.

Illinois then went on to defeat the College of Charleston, 65-57, and Virginia Tech, 85-77, to win the tournament. Though the Illini were 3-0, their somewhat weak showing in Puerto Rico dropped them out of the rankings as they came into a battle against a Duke team that was ranked No. 6 at the time.

The showdown with the defending ACC champions was the first college basketball game ever to be held in the newly constructed United Center in Chicago. Not only was it a homecoming trip for many members of the Illinois team and Duke head coach Mike Krzyzewski, but it also marked the return of center Shelly Clark, who had been serving a five-game suspension.

Illinois took an early lead to surprise the Blue Devils, but was not able to maintain it and found itself down five by the end of the first half. The Illini stayed close as the game progressed, but would up losing, 70-65.

The Illini bounced back after the tough Duke loss to go on a five-game winning streak. After defeating Kansas State, 76-69, on the road, Illinois won its 16th consecutive Illini/Pepsi Classic by defeating Northeastern Illinois, 71-53, and then rolling over Princeton, 59-37, in the championship game. Robert Bennett was named tournament MVP, and Keene and Garris were named to the all-tournament team.

Victories over UIC and Mercer finished up the strong Illini run and allowed Illinois to reappear in the AP Poll for the first time since the preseason. It was an honor that wouldn't last long. Three days after earning their No. 23 ranking, Illinois dropped its record to 0-2 in new stadiums in a 76-58 loss to Missouri at the Kiel Center in St. Louis. Nearly 22,000 fans, the highest all-time attendance for a basketball game in Missouri, watched the Illini shoot 31.7 percent from the floor in their worst offensive performance of the year.

Next up for Illini was Connecticut, which was 5-0 at the time. Illinois almost mirrored its previous outing, shooting 31.3 percent in the second half to lose what appeared to be a winnable game, 71-56.

In their last game of 1994, the Illini finally found their jump shots. They posted a 56 percent field goal percentage to down Memphis, 86-76. Jerry Hester poured in 29 points to lead Illinois to the victory. Garris and Keene also scored 16 points a piece.

At long last it was time for the Big Ten season to start. Illinois came roaring into conference play with four strong wins. Garris and Keene combined to score 50 points and beat Ohio State, 79-70, in the Big Ten opener at home. After two road victories against Northwestern and eventual Big Ten champion Purdue, the Illini were ready to tangle with Indiana.

A capacity crowd of 16,150 piled into the Assembly Hall in Champaign to watch Illinois down the Hoosiers, 78-67, and retain its position atop the Big Ten. In the second half, Hester hit two treys to spark a 13-0 run for the Illini that carry them to victory. Hester finished the game with six three-point field goals, all of which came in the second half, to tie an Illini record.

Once again the Illini appeared in the AP poll, this time at No. 20, their highest ranking yet of the season. As had happened twice before, Illinois' stay in the polls was short. Michigan rolled into town three days later and handed the Orange and Blue a 69-59 defeat.

The loss not only toppled the Illini from first place in the Big Ten, but it also started a three-game losing streak that included a road loss to Minnesota, 77-66, and a home loss to Michigan State, 75-67.

Things looked bleak as Illinois headed into a game at Iowa. At the half, the Illini were down, 42-39, and it looked like their losing skid would be extended to four. But Garriss' 14 second-half points turned the game around, and the Illini ended up pulling out a thrilling come-from-behind-victory, 79-74.

Illinois made its 62 percent shooting performance the Iowa game look like a fluke in a 73-60 loss to the Badgers in Madison in its next contest.

Spirits were down when they received a much-needed boost from a two-game homestand. Illinois started with a 67-58 victory over Penn State, and then eked out a 104-97 overtime win over Iowa in perhaps the team's gutsiest performance of the season. Bennett sank a free throw to send the game into overtime, where the Illini outscored the Hawkeyes, 18-11. Clark scored 25 and pulled down 15 boards, while Garriss scored 27.

As had been the trend for Illinois, Illinois followed up the victory with a dismal performance, this time at Michigan State. The Illini were never able to overcome a 30-13 deficit in the first half and ended up losing, 68-58.

Illinois bounced right back, picking up its second overtime win in three games with a 91-88 overtime defeat of Minnesota.

Again Illinois went straight from a peak to a valley, dropping three in a row. After road losses to Michigan, 63-51, and Indiana, 89-85, the Illini came home and took a beating from Purdue, losing 69-56. Poor shooting doomed the Illini right from the start as they shot 20 percent from the field in the first half.

The losing skid put the Illini in a must-win situation for their last two games of the season against two of the worst teams in the conference, Northwestern and Ohio State. Illinois had to win both games to have any hope of receiving an NCAA bid and did, beating Northwestern, 99-77, at home and topping Ohio State, 82-63, in Columbus.

The two victories earned Illinois a No. 11 seed in the East Regional at the NCAA tournament. Though they led by seven points at the half, the streaky Illini were outscored by 13 points in the second period and fell to the Golden Hurricane, 68-62.

Illinois shot under 40 percent for the ninth time in 1994-95. For the year, the Illini had a .417 shooting percentage, its lowest since 1975.

On the bright side, Illinois finished in the upper half of the Big Ten for the 13th time in the last 15 years and advanced to the NCAA tournament for the third consecutive year and 18th time in school history.

Illinois ended up losing nine of its last 15 games and finished with a 19-12 record overall. The Illini went 10-8 in Big Ten play to tie with Minnesota for fifth place.

1994-95 Game-by-Game

AMERICAN UNIVERSITY VS. ILLINOIS

Nov. 25, 1994, Guerra Sport Complex, San Juan, Puerto Rico
San Juan Shootout

ILLINOIS 89, AMERICAN 77

Illinois opened its 1994-95 season at the San Juan Shootout without starter Shelly Clark, who was serving a five-game suspension. The Illini led by as many as 12 points in the first half, but the Pirates battled back to tie the game at 51 with 15:29 remaining in the second frame. Chris Gandy popped a 15-foot jumper, Richard Keene banked a jumper and Bryant Notree scored his first collegiate basket to begin the Illini's second-half run. With nine minutes left, the Illini led, 71-55, and expanded that lead to 82-63 with 11 free throws, six of them by Robert Bennett. Kiwane Garris led Illini scorers with 17 points, followed by Gandy with 15 and Bennett with 14. The leading scorer of the game was American's Alex Falcon who tallied 18 for the Pirates in their losing effort.

COLLEGE OF CHARLESTON VS. ILLINOIS

Nov. 26, 1994, Guerra Sport Complex, San Juan, Puerto Rico
San Juan Shootout

ILLINOIS 65, CHARLESTON 57

Illinois' domination on the boards helped seal the team's second victory of the young season. The Illini, who outrebounded Charleston 42-28, were led by Robert Bennett and Jerry Gee. Bennett continued his strong play inside, scoring 18 points and grabbing 12 rebounds. Gee followed close behind with 17 points and 10 boards. Illinois jumped off to a 14-0 lead before Ken Ward scored Charleston's first points with 12:18 remaining in the first half. At the end of the stanza, the Illini were only up by four points. The Cougars took their first and only lead of the game off a Marion Busby three-pointer with 17:32 remaining in the game. Charleston pulled back within one point with four minutes left, but Illinois went on a 6-0 run to thwart the Cougars' comeback.

VIRGINIA TECH VS. ILLINOIS

Nov. 27, 1994, Guerra Sport Complex, San Juan, Puerto Rico
San Juan Shootout Championship

ILLINOIS 85, VIRGINIA TECH 75

Illinois, led by Kiwane Garris, captured the crown at the San Juan Shootout for its first tournament win away from the Assembly Hall since 1988. Garris earned tournament MVP honors after leading all scorers in the championship game with 27 points. The point guard also handed out five assists. The Illini took charge early with a 16-8 burst to begin the first half, but Virginia Tech soon caught up and took a 17-16 lead. Illinois took the lead for good, 23-20, on a three-pointer by Garris. The Hokies pulled within three points in the second half, but consecutive treys by Garris and Brian Johnson stretched the lead to 74-65. Virginia Tech never got closer than seven in the final five minutes of the championship game.

DUKE VS. ILLINOIS

Dec. 3, 1994, United Center, Chicago, Ill.

DUKE 70, ILLINOIS 65

Illinois and Duke squared off in the first college basketball game ever to be held in Chicago's United Center. Illinois stayed close to the No. 6 Blue Devils throughout the game, but the Illini were unable to take control due to several key turnovers in the second half. Illinois led most of the first half after jumping off to 6-0 edge, but Duke eventually took the lead at 20-18 with 5:26 remaining in the first half on a Kenny Blakeney three-pointer. In the second half, Illinois rallied from 64-57 to lead 65-64 on a trey by Kiwane Garriss, a 16-footer by Richard Keene and another Garriss trey with 1:22 remaining. Duke then took a 68-65 lead with 21 seconds left. After a Garriss miss, the Illini had one last chance for a three-pointer to tie the game, but Brian Johnson's inbounds pass was stolen by Cherokee Parks. Illinois did not score in the last 1:22, while the Blue Devils scored six to win the game. Illinois was led by Garriss with 19 points and six assists, followed by Keene who scored 15 and dished out nine assists.

ILLINOIS VS. KANSAS STATE

Dec. 5, 1994, Bramlage Coliseum, Manhattan, Kan.

ILLINOIS 76, KANSAS STATE 69

Despite turning the ball over 25 times, the Illini were able to escape Manhattan, Kan., with a seven-point victory. Bryant Notree opened the game with a three-pointer, followed by two Jerry Gee free throws and back-to-back dunks by Robert Bennett and Notree to build a 9-0 Illini lead in the first three minutes. Illinois would not give up the lead the rest of the game, but the Wildcats did creep to within one point, 17-16, with nine minutes left in the first half. In the second half, Illinois built a 14-point lead, 63-49, with just under six minutes remaining in the game. Kansas State again stormed back, pulling within three points twice late in the game. The Illini were able to hold on due to a Brian Johnson layup and two free throws by Richard Keene with 26 seconds left in the contest. Kiwane Garriss led Illinois with 15 points and five assists, followed by Gee and Chris Gandy who both scored 10.

NORTHEASTERN ILLINOIS VS. ILLINOIS

Dec. 9, 1994, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

Illini/Pepsi Classic

ILLINOIS 71, NORTHEASTERN ILLINOIS 53

Illinois cruised to its 31st consecutive victory in the Illini Classic, defeating the Northeastern Illinois Golden Eagles by 18 points. Illinois was led by Kiwane Garrison who scored 17 and dished out seven assists, followed by Jerry Hester and Richard Keene, both of whom scored 10. Monte O'Quinn of Northeastern was the game's leading scorer with 21 points and nine rebounds. Robert Bennett opened the game with a slam, Hester followed with a three-pointer and Keene hit a jumper to give the Illini a 22-13 advantage in the game's first 10 minutes. Treys by Brian Bestor and Matt Wallace pulled the Eagles within 23-19, but Illinois quickly expanded its lead to double figures on baskets by Chris Gandy and Jerry Gee. Northeastern never pulled closer than 13 in the remainder of the game.

PRINCETON VS. ILLINOIS

Dec. 10, 1994, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

Illini/Pepsi Classic Championship Game

ILLINOIS 59, PRINCETON 37

The Fighting Illini won their 16th consecutive Illini Classic championship, defeating the slow-paced offense of Princeton. Robert Bennett was named the tournament's MVP after scoring a game-high 16 points and grabbing six rebounds. Richard Keene followed with 10 points, three assists and four rebounds. Princeton's Mitch Henderson opened the game with a three-pointer, but the Tigers did not score again for another eight minutes, while the Illini registered 12 points during that span. Illinois then outscored Princeton, 17-5, to end the first half. The Illini led by as many as 26 points in the second half, holding the Tigers to a .318 shooting percentage in the game. Only eight Tigers scored in the game, none in double figures. Chris Long had nine points, and Chris Doyal scored seven and grabbed a game-high nine boards.

ILLINOIS-CHICAGO VS. ILLINOIS

Dec. 17, 1994, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

ILLINOIS 75, ILLINOIS-CHICAGO 60

Illinois moved to 7-1 on the season with this victory over its sister school. Both teams struggled from the floor. Illinois hit only 38 percent of its shots, while UIC connected on a meager 21-of-67 attempts (31 percent). UIC did not record its first field goal until 12:40 in the first half and ended the period going just 9-for-27. Illinois started out 2-for-15, but then finished the half hitting 12-of-19 to take a five-point halftime lead. UI expanded its lead to as many as 19 points in the second half before ending up with the 75-60 victory. UIC standout Sherell Ford missed nine minutes of the first half with a cut above his eye, but ended up with 19 points on the night. Jerry Hester and Kiwane Garriss each had 19 for the Illini.

MERCER VS. ILLINOIS

Dec. 19, 1994, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

ILLINOIS 90, MERCER 66

Mercer, outmatched from the beginning, fell behind, 15-2, and never recovered as Illinois rolled to its eighth win of the year. The Illini, in contrast to the Illinois-Chicago game, were hot from the field. They shot 55 percent in the first half while the Bears managed to drain only three of their first 21 shots, for 29 percent shooting in the half. Five Illini scored in double figures. Bryant Notree scored a career-high 15 points, and Richard Keene grabbed a career-high 10 rebounds to go with his 13 points. Mercer's Chance Solomon scored 30 points for the Bears.

MISSOURI VS. ILLINOIS

Dec. 22, 1994, Kiel Center, St. Louis, Mo.

MISSOURI 76, ILLINOIS 58

Illinois and Missouri continued their annual border war at the sold-out Kiel Center in St. Louis, with Missouri coming away with its fourth consecutive win over the Illini. A crowd of 21,714, the highest all-time attendance for a basketball game in the state of Missouri, watched the Tigers turn a two-point halftime deficit into an 18-point game. Missouri dominated the second half of the game, shooting 67 percent from the floor and hitting 15-of-16 free throws. The Illini, however, had one of their worst shooting halves in recent memory. Illinois was 10-of-38 in the second half, including a meager 0-for-13 from three-point range. UI shot only five free throws in the half, missing three. Mizzou's Paul O'Liney was the high scorer for the game, pumping in 19 points. Derek Grimm added 18, shooting 100 percent from the floor and free throw line. Shelly Clark led Illinois with 15 points.

ILLINOIS VS. CONNECTICUT

Dec. 27, 1994, Hartford Civic Center, Hartford, Conn.

CONNECTICUT 71, ILLINOIS 56

Illinois traveled to the East Coast to battle powerful 10th-ranked Connecticut, but was unable to hand the 5-0 Huskies their first defeat of the season. Illinois stayed close during the first half, outshooting Connecticut 48-35 percent. The inside of duo of Chris Gandy and Shelly Clark combined for 21 points in the half. The game was tied at 32 with 49 seconds left, before a layup gave the Huskies a two-point halftime lead, one which they would never give up. Connecticut's defense held Gandy and Clark to just 10 points in the second frame. Connecticut built a nine-point lead before Illinois cut it to one with 12:10 remaining. After that, the Huskies went on an 11-0 run and held on for the win. Clark led all scorers with 18. Connecticut was led by Doron Sheffer who scored 17.

MEMPHIS VS. ILLINOIS

Dec. 29, 1994, Assembly Hall, Champaign, IL

ILLINOIS 86, MEMPHIS 76

Illinois finished its last non-conference game in dominating fashion with a 10-point victory over Memphis. The loss was the worst defeat in the young season for the Tigers. Jerry Hester led the Illini to a six-point first-half lead, scoring 13 points and shooting 3-for-4 from three-point range. Richard Keene and Kiwane Garriss had two three-pointers apiece at the half. The second half began with a 9-2 run by the Illini that forged a 13-point lead. Illinois would not relinquish its advantage in winning its ninth game. Hester ended up scoring a career-high 29 points. Kiwane Garriss finished with 16 points and seven assists as the Orange and Blue shot a blistering 56 percent from the field. David Vaughn had 20 points and 10 rebounds for the Tigers.

OHIO STATE VS. ILLINOIS

Jan. 4, 1995, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

ILLINOIS 79, OHIO STATE 70

Kiwane Garriss and Richard Keene combined to score 50 of the Illini's 79 points as Illinois opened the Big Ten season with a home victory over the Buckeyes. Keene made three three-pointers in the first half to help give Illinois a 38-28 lead at the break. Garriss' 19 second-half points helped to keep Ohio State from making a comeback. Antonio Watson led the Buckeyes with 20 points, and Rickey Dudley had 13 points and seven rebounds just two days after playing tight end for Ohio State in the Citrus Bowl.

ILLINOIS VS. NORTHWESTERN

Jan. 7, 1995, Welsh-Ryan Arena, Evanston, Ill.

ILLINOIS 82, NORTHWESTERN 55

The intrastate rivalry between the Illini and the Wildcats continued with Illinois blowing Northwestern out in Evanston. The Illini broke the game wide open with 12:15 left in the first half when they went on a 14-0 run that was capped off by a monstrous Jerry Gee dunk. Illinois went into the lockerroom at halftime with a 20-point lead, primarily due to center Shelly Clark's domination in the paint. He had 14 points and eight boards at the break. The Illini continued to pound Northwestern in the second half, and the Wildcats failed to threaten. Illinois had another hot shooting night, hitting 53.2 percent from the field, which included a 63.3 percent first-half performance. Meanwhile the Wildcats could only muster a 31.1 percent field goal percentage. Cedric Neloms was the one bright spot for Northwestern, scoring 23 points and pulling down eight rebounds

ILLINOIS VS. PURDUE

Jan. 10, 1995, Mackey Arena, West Lafayette, Ind.

ILLINOIS 62, PURDUE 58

Lou Henson got his 200th career Big Ten win on his 63rd birthday as the Illini snared a tough road win to improve to 3-0 in the conference. Illinois moved out to a 33-24 halftime lead before a 15-2 run to open the second half gave the Boilermakers a 39-35 lead. The Orange and Blue didn't give up. They battled back and finally tied the game at 54-54 on a thunderous Shelly Clark dunk with 3:19 left. Finally a Richard Keene baseline three-pointer with under a minute to go put Illinois on top for good. Keene paced four Illini scorers in double figures with 16 points, and Robert Bennett pulled down a game-high 10 rebounds. Illinois's defense was particularly good as it held Cuonzo Martin, Purdue's leading scorer, to only 11 points.

INDIANA VS. ILLINOIS

Jan. 14, 1995, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

ILLINOIS 78, INDIANA 67

The Illini were red-hot after their big win in West Lafayette. Things didn't get much easier for the team, though, as it faced No. 23 Indiana four days later. In front of a capacity crowd at Assembly Hall, Illinois kept sole possession of first place and improved to 4-0 in league play with a 78-67 win. The Illini perimeter attack overcame the 1-2 combination of Indiana's Brian Evans and All-America candidate Alan Henderson to key the victory. Kiwane Garris paced the Illini with 21 points, while Jerry Hester scored all 19 of his points in the second half, 18 coming on his six three-pointers, a school-record for a half. Richard Keene scored 16, with 14 coming in the first half. A 20-4 run by Illinois midway through the second half gave the Illini a 66-52 lead with five minutes remaining. Henderson led all scorers with 27 points while Evans added 21. Illinois' Shelly Clark led all rebounders with 12 boards.

MICHIGAN VS. ILLINOIS

Jan. 17, 1995, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

MICHIGAN 69, ILLINOIS 59

Poor shooting was a main contributor to the Illini's first Big Ten loss of the season. The Illini shot just 34 percent for the game, 31 percent in the deciding second half, and saw their 13-game home winning streak snapped. Guards Richard Keene and Kiwane Garris paced the Fighting Illini with 19 points each, but received a total of just 16 points from the starting front line of Jerry Hester, Robert Bennett and Shelly Clark. Three consecutive three-pointers by Dugan Fife broke open a 30-30 tie and forced the Illini into a catch-up situation for the remainder of the game. Ray Jackson and Jimmy King led the Wolverines with 16 and 14 points, respectively. Jackson also led all rebounders with 11 boards.

ILLINOIS VS. MINNESOTA

Jan. 21, 1995, Williams Arena, Minneapolis, Minn.

MINNESOTA 77, ILLINOIS 66

Minnesota shot a blistering 74 percent (17-23) from the field in the second half to pull away for a 77-66 win over the Illini. The Illini trailed by just two points at the half, but couldn't match the hot-shooting Gophers down the stretch.

Minnesota connected on 10-of-16 three-point attempts for the game, including 6-of-8 by senior guard Townsend Orr. Orr finished with a team-high 18 points. Illinois' Shelly Clark was particularly effective around the basket, connecting on 7-of-9 attempts from the field, but played just 25 minutes due to foul trouble. Kiwane Garris led the Illini with 20 points while Robert Bennett pitched in with 15. Illinois made just 3-of-20 three pointers for the game.

MICHIGAN STATE VS. ILLINOIS

Jan. 28, 1995, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

MICHIGAN STATE 75, ILLINOIS 67

The Illini's skid continued as they lost their third consecutive game in the Big Ten, this night falling to 10th-ranked Michigan State, 75-67. The Spartans were paced by All-America candidate Shawn Respert's 29 points and Eric Snow, who contributed 15 points and 12 assists. The highly rated MSU backcourt outscored the Illini starting guards, 44-8. Shelly Clark played one of his best games as an Illini with 22 points on 9-of-14 field goal shooting. Jerry Hester broke out of his shooting slump with 19 points, making 5-of-8 three-pointers and snagging five boards. For the third straight game Illinois was out rebounded, this time by a 36-22 margin. Illinois lost its first game of the season when shooting better than 44 percent and just its second after leading at halftime.

ILLINOIS VS. IOWA

Feb. 1, 1995, Carver-Hawkeye Arena, Iowa City, Iowa

ILLINOIS 79, IOWA 74

Illinois snapped a three-game conference losing streak and Lou Henson got his 400th career win at Illinois as the Illini pulled out a rare come-from-behind victory on the road. Illinois was down by as many as seven early before a Robert Bennett dunk tied the game at 10 midway through the first half. Bennett would then go on a dunking spree. He ended up with 12 points at the half, all on slams. Richard Keene also ended the half with impressive offensive statistics: a pair of three pointers and eight assists. Despite the great efforts, the Illini still found themselves down 42-39 at the half. In the second half, three pointers by Keene and Kiwane Garriss on Illinois' first two possessions produced a three-point lead (45-42) Illinois would never relinquish. Iowa made a run with 1:33 remaining, cutting the lead to 75-74, but a turnaround jumper by Bennett sealed the Illini victory. Garriss led the Illini with 23 points, 14 in the second half. Keene finished the game with 17 points and nine assists, and Bennett tallied 18 points. Andre Woolridge led the Hawkeyes with 18 points and 10 assists.

ILLINOIS VS. WISCONSIN

Feb. 4, 1995, Wisconsin Fieldhouse, Madison, Wis.

WISCONSIN 73, ILLINOIS 60

Illinois fought hard the entire game, but just couldn't overcome Wisconsin's duo of Michael Finley and Rashard Griffith. In the first half the Badgers shot a blistering 59 percent from the field to build up a 42-28 halftime lead. The Illini battled back in the second half. Twice Wisconsin built 17-point leads. Illinois whittled the Badger lead down to five points with eight minutes left in the game. However, the Badgers finished strong. A monster dunk by Griffith with five minutes left gave Wisconsin a 10-point lead and broke the Illini's back. Illinois failed to hit a three-point shot in the game, the first time in 113 games that it did not net a three. Finley had 27 points, nine assists and eight rebounds, and Griffith had 16 points, eight rebounds and six blocked shots to lead the Badgers. The Illini were led by Shelly Clark with 18 points and Kiwane Garriss with 14 points.

PENN STATE VS. ILLINOIS

Feb. 8, 1995, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

ILLINOIS 67, PENN STATE 58

The Illini snapped a two-game home losing streak by beating the Nittany Lions, 67-58. The victory moved Illinois' Big Ten record to 6-4. Illinois held Penn State to just 33 percent shooting from the field in the first half to jump out to a 33-26 halftime lead. The Nittany Lions refused to give up and stayed within six points until there was only a minute left. From there, free throw shooting gave Illinois its final nine-point victory margin. Kiwane Garriss put on a tremendous offensive display, tying his career high with 33 points. Garriss did not miss from either the free throw line, where he was 10-10, or the three-point line, where he was 3-for-3. He also had a season-high eight assists in the game.

IOWA VS. ILLINOIS

Feb. 11, 1995, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

ILLINOIS 104, IOWA 97 (OT)

The Illini continued their winning ways by defeating Iowa in an exciting overtime battle, 104-97. In the first half, the Illini led most of the way and at halftime held a 44-35 lead. In the second half, Iowa came out fired up and shot 66 percent from the field. After Iowa took the lead, 54-53, with 12:38 remaining, the two teams never led each other by more than four points. Iowa led, 86-82, with only 19 seconds remaining in the game when Jerry Hester hit a crucial three-pointer to pull the Illini within one point. Robert Bennett was then fouled by Iowa's Andre Woolridge with 15.4 seconds left in regulation. Bennett made one of his two free throws to send the game onto overtime. In overtime, the Illini never trailed, outscoring Iowa, 18-11. Kiwane Garriss led the way with 27 points and was 11-for-11 from the line to move his consecutive free throw streak to 33. Shelly Clark posted a season-high 25 points and a career-high 15 rebounds in the overtime victory. The victory was Illinois' eighth in a row vs. Iowa at the Assembly Hall.

ILLINOIS VS. MICHIGAN STATE

Feb. 15, 1995, Breslin Student Events Center, East Lansing, Mich.

MICHIGAN STATE 68, ILLINOIS 58

Illinois fell behind 30-13 at the half and could never come closer than nine points in dropping a 68-58 decision to Big Ten-leading Michigan State. The Illini's 13 first-half points were their lowest point total in a half in more than a decade. Shawn Respert was 8-for-12 from three-point range and led the Spartans with 35 points. Freshman Jerry Gee led the Illini in scoring with an 11-point performance. Kiwane Garis was held to seven points but did go 2-for-2 from the free throw line to extend his streak to 35 in a row.

MINNESOTA VS. ILLINOIS

Feb. 22, 1995, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

ILLINOIS 94, MINNESOTA 88 (OT)

Robert Bennett scored a career-high 24 points and grabbed 11 rebounds to lead Illinois to a 94-88 victory over 22nd-ranked Minnesota. Bennett pace five Illini scorers in double figures. Richard Keene scored 17 points, Kiwane Garis 16, Shelly Clark 12 and Jerry Gee 10. Jerry Hester grabbed a season-high 11 rebounds to help Illinois dominate the boards, 42-27. Minnesota's Voshon Lenard, who became the Gopher's all-time leading scorer during the game, tied the game at 73 on a free throw with 20 seconds remaining, but missed the potential game winner. A shot by Garis at the buzzer missed to send the contest to overtime. Illinois outscored the Gophers, 21-15, in OT to pick up its 17th win of the season. Garis had his school-record consecutive free throw streak snapped at 39.

ILLINOIS VS. MICHIGAN

Feb. 26, 1995, Crisler Arena, Ann Arbor, Mich.

MICHIGAN 63, ILLINOIS 51

The Illini shot 29.5 percent in a losing effort as they set season lows for points scored and shooting percentage. Illinois was just 4-of-25 on three-pointers and 11-of-23 from the foul line. Kiwane Garriss was only 1-of-8 from the field while shooting guard Richard Keene finished 4-of-15. Shelly Clark led the team with 14 points, despite being double-teamed. With 16:29 remaining Illinois pulled the game to 34-30 but over the next 10 minutes, Michigan simply ran away with it. The Wolverines went on a 24-5 run which included two dunks, two baskets off fast breaks and six free throws. The scoring run put Michigan ahead to stay at 58-35.

INDIANA 89, ILLINOIS 85

In one of the best played basketball games of the year, hot-shooting Indiana held off the Illini, 89-85. Both teams shot better than 60 percent in the first half as the Hoosiers raced out to a 46-42 lead at the break. Indiana kept it up in the second half, shooting 65.4 percent to end the game at .643. The Illini were a little colder in the second half, connecting on 15-of-33 attempts to finish with 55.6 percent shooting from the floor. The Hoosiers and Illini stayed close throughout the second stanza with Indiana leading by no more than six during the remainder of the game. The Illini tied the game at 85 on a Richard Keene three-pointer with 18.7 seconds remaining. After working the clock, Indiana's Charlie Miller hit a layup and was fouled with 3.8 seconds left. Miller made his free throw and the ensuing inbounds pass by Keene floated out of bounds. Jerry Hester and Kiwane Garriss led the Illini with 18 points each. Shelly Clark added 15 in the loss. Alan Henderson led Indiana with 34 points, followed by Brian Evans with 16.

PURDUE VS. ILLINOIS

March 4, 1995, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

PURDUE 69, ILLINOIS 56

Purdue came into the Assembly Hall with a five-game losing streak in Champaign, but fighting for the Big Ten title with Michigan State. The Boilermakers used that motivation to knock off the Illini, 69-56. Illinois shot just 21 percent from the floor in the first half and trailed, 33-20, at the break. At the other end, Purdue shot a scorching 65 percent in the first period. The Illini could climb no closer than five during the second half. The Boilermakers' Cuonzo Martin led all scorers with 29 points, hitting 5-of-8 three-pointers. The Illini placed three players in double figures: Shelly Clark had 12 points, followed by Richard Keene and Jerry Gee, who each tallied 10.

NORTHWESTERN VS. ILLINOIS

March 8, 1995, Assembly Hall, Champaign, Ill.

ILLINOIS 99, NORTHWESTERN 57

Four Fighting Illini seniors bid farewell to the Assembly Hall with an impressive 99-57 victory over the visiting Wildcats. The victory kept Illinois' NCAA tournament hopes alive. The Illini started slowly, trailing, 16-14, with 12 minutes to go in the first half, but they went on a 26-14 run to close the period and lead, 40-30, at the break. Illinois would never look back in the second half, notching its 16th consecutive victory over Northwestern in the Assembly Hall. Five Illini scored in double figures led by Jerry Hester, who tallied 17 points. Shelly Clark also pulled down a career-high 19 rebounds. Northwestern's Geno Carlisle led all scorers with 18 points. Clark's 19 boards were the most by an Illini since 1972.

ILLINOIS VS. OHIO STATE

March 11, 1995, St. John's Arena, Columbus, Ohio

ILLINOIS 82, OHIO STATE 63

Illinois assured itself of an NCAA bid by winning its 10th conference game of the season, defeating the Buckeyes, 82-63, in Columbus. The Illini were inspired from the very start of the game. UI jumped out to a 21-4 lead to start the game, thanks in part to three treys from Kiwane Garriss. After a 15-8 OSU run, Illinois took a 37-23 lead into the lockerroom at halftime. The Buckeyes scrapped their way back into the game in the second half. Ohio State cut the lead to four with 11 minutes to play, 52-48, before the Illini buckled down and picked up the important road win. Illinois' second-half shooting ensured the outcome. UI was 15-of-28 (.536) from the floor and 12-of-14 from the line (.857). Garriss led all scorers with 24 points, while Jerry Hester added another 17 points.

ILLINOIS VS. TULSA

March 17, 1995, Knickerbocker Arena, Albany, N.Y.

NCAA First Round

TULSA 68, ILLINOIS 62

The Illini squandered a seven-point halftime lead to make an early exit from the NCAA Tournament in a 68-62 loss to the Golden Hurricane. Illinois led by as many as 12 points in the second half, but Tulsa came back to tie the game at 54 at the 9:00 mark. With 1:07 left Illinois was ahead 62-61, but the Orange and Blue would not score again while Tulsa went on 7-0 run in the final minute to claim the victory. It was the first time Tulsa had been in the lead since early in the first half. Kiwane Garriss had 24 points to lead the Illini, while Shea Seals scored 22 points to pace the Golden Hurricane. Shelly Clark had 13 points and 12 rebounds in his final game at Illinois.

Leo Hana was put in charge of building the basketball program at Illinois after a women's program had existed for years. A team, led by its playing captain Roy Riley, beat Champaign High School Jan. 6, two weeks before Hana was able to replace Riley with a "professional" coach. Elwood Brown became Illinois' first basketball coach Jan. 20, 1906, and proceeded to turn in a commendable coaching job, especially since the squad lost two of its mainstays during the season. "The results of the season were on the whole satisfactory. In the future, there will not be such a lack of material as hampered the coach (Brown) this season," wrote the 1907 Illio.

(1-10)

Pinckney took over the coaching reins for a year in 1907. There was promise for a good season after the solid start the program had made in 1906. More than 100 men tried out for the team. Pinckney found at least three freshman he thought would help the team and placed them on the varsity squad. However, the Western Conference Committee declared the three ineligible, leaving Pinckney with a much depleted team and Illinois with its worst record ever. The decision to make the freshmen ineligible gave Pinckney the same problem Brown faced the year before - turning out a winning team with limited talent.

Fletcher Lane

1 year
(20-6)

Fletcher Lane's all-time best winning percentage among Illinois coaches is misleading, since he only coached for one year. His 20-6 team of 1908 benefited from a long Southern trip in which the team beat several YMCA and club teams from Tennessee, Texas, Alabama, and Georgia. The club was billed as a closely-knit group, due in part to the long trip. The players, however, did not appear to appreciate Lane's coaching style. M.G. Dadant, the 1908 captain wrote, "Handicapped as they were by the lack of any competent coaching, the players went through the season in perfect harmony, each one relinquishing any personal feelings that the team might be better as a whole."

H. V. Juul

2 years
(12-10)

H. V. Juul became the first Illinois basketball coach to stay for more than one year. He also became the first former Fighting Illini player to head the Illinois basketball program and was captain of the 1907 squad. After leading Illinois to a 12-10 record over two years, he departed to become a professional baseball player, enjoying stints with the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati Reds. Juul was the son of a former Illinois Congressman and, prior to his death in 1928, was a committeeman in the 35th Ward in Chicago as well as was campaign director for the Republican Party headquarters at the Morrison Hotel in Chicago.

T. E. Thompson

2 years
(14-14)

T. E. Thompson also had a two-year career as head basketball coach at Illinois, compiling a 14-

14 record. Thompson claimed, at the time, to be the only player in Western Conference history to have played five years of collegiate basketball. He was at Northwestern for one year before playing at Illinois for four additional seasons. In addition to his duties as basketball coach at Illinois in 1911-12, he also served as Athletic Director George Huff's only assistant in the athletic department, doubling as the school's general manager of athletics and as ticket manager. After leaving the university, he founded The Thomas Thompson Company in Highland Park, Ill., a manufacturer of enamel products.

Ralph Jones

(85-34)

After arriving at Illinois from Purdue, Ralph Jones left an impressive legacy behind in Champaign. Besides coaching freshman football and baseball during his tenure at Illinois, he was credited by some with originating the fast break in basketball. After leading the Fighting Illini to one outright crown and the sharing of one other conference championship, Jones left to coach at Wabash and eventually Lake Forest Academy. In addition, Jones was head coach of the Chicago Bears from 1930-33, where, among other achievements, he was credited with the revival of the T-formation, and the use of a man in motion to throw off the defense..

Frank Winters

2 years
(25-12)

While in his two-year stint as coach of the Illinois basketball team, Frank Winters was faced with having only a handful of veteran players available and was forced into installing an entirely new system of play. His 25-12 record in two years was a testament to the way Winters made negatives into positives. Upon arriving as head coach in the fall of 1920, he inherited a team whose best player, Chuck Carney, had just severely injured his knee in the last football game. Nonetheless, the team went on to an 11-7 record and improved to 14-5 in the 1922 campaign.

J. Craig Ruby

14 years
(148-97)

J. Craig Ruby was known as one of the great basketball tacticians of his time. He and legendary

Kansas coach Phog Allen actively campaigned together for higher baskets to offset the advantage of tall centers. Ruby alone advocated the elimination of the dribble to do away with stalling, and wanted the hoop enlarged to 20 inches in diameter rather than the standard 18.

Ruby's second season at Illinois produced a tie for the Big Ten championship in 1924, but it was not until 1935 that he could lead his team to tie for top conference honors again.

Douglas R. Mills

11 years
(151-66)

Doug Mills was not only an extremely successful basketball coach at Illinois, but one of the University's most prolific and long-standing administrators. He began his association with Fighting Illini athletics as a stand-in in both football and basketball in the late 1920s. Mills became the first Illinois head basketball coach to lead his squad to three Big Ten crowns. Also included in his 11-year coaching tenure was the formation of the legendary "Whiz Kids" team of 1942 and '43. That team won back-to-back Big Ten crowns. After retiring from the coaching ranks in 1947, Mills retained his position as athletic director until 1966.

Harry Combes

20 years
(316-150)

Harry Combes only had to move across town after accepting the job as head coach at Illinois. Prior to joining the Illini, he had been head coach at Champaign High School where he posted an astounding 254-16 record, including winning the state title in 1946. Once at Illinois he won three Big Ten titles in his first five seasons ('49, '51 and '52). It was also Combes who led the Fighting Illini to three third-place finishes in the NCAA Tournament in the four-year period from 1949-52. The squad won 79 of the 100 games during those four years. Illinois' 1952 Final Four appearance was the first officially recognized Final Four and the only Final Four appearance Illinois made until 1989. Until Lou Henson broke the record in 1990, Combes' 316 wins were the most wins ever by an Illinois head basketball coach.

Harv Schmidt

7 years
(89-77)

Harv Schmidt, a former all-time great player at Illinois, returned to his alma mater in 1968 after serving as an assistant at New Mexico for three years. Within three years of his arrival, he had brought Illinois back to among the elite programs in the Big Ten. The beginning of his tenure marked what possibly was the high-water mark in fan enthusiasm. Illinois led the nation in attendance in 1970, averaging 16,128 per home contest, as students routinely camped out for tickets outside the newly opened, state-of-the-art Assembly Hall.

Gene Bartow

1 year
(8-18)

Brought to Illinois to continue the magical rebuilding jobs he had undertaken at Valparaiso and Memphis State. Gene Bartow was counted on by Athletic Director Cecil Coleman to restore the successful level of play fans had become accustomed to in the past few decades. However, Bartow's stay in Champaign was short-lived, lasting only one year and producing an 8-18 record. The lure away from Illinois was a strong one for Bartow: he was hired away by UCLA to replace legendary Bruin coach John Wooden.

Lou Henson

19 years
(386-199)

Lou Henson, the all-time winningest coach in Illinois basketball history, currently ranks No. 7 on the all-time active coaching list for wins with 645. Illinois has become a national power under Henson, being selected to the NCAA tournament 11 times in all, including eight times during the 1980s. The highlight of the postseason competition came in 1989 when the spectacular Flying Illini team won a school-record 31 contests and was narrowly defeated by Michigan in a national semifinal game in Seattle. Henson's Illini were also seeded among the top four in their regional for six consecutive years (1984-89) for the second-longest such streak (next to North Carolina) ever. Illinois finished in the upper division in the Big Ten nine consecutive seasons (1983-91), and had 11 straight years of producing a plus-500 Big Ten record from 1981 to 1991, the fifth-longest streak of that kind in Big Ten history.

The Fighting Illini won their 16th consecutive Illini/Pepsi Classic in 1994.

The History of Illinois Basketball

When representatives of the University of Illinois met Dec. 2, 1905, along with officials of six other schools, not only was the Big Ten Conference formed, Illinois basketball was also born.

Since then, the Fighting Illini program has grown to national prominence, gaining a place among the country's elite basketball programs. In the ensuing 90 season Illinois has been at the forefront of the Big Ten conference, as well as the national college basketball world. In those 90 seasons, Illinois has produced a 1280-713 record, one of the top-20 win totals in the nation. Its .571 all-time winning percentage in Big Ten games is among the best in the conference.

The job of head basketball coach at Illinois has been a model of consistency throughout the 90 years. Only 13 men have served in the position, and there have only been six head coaches since 1923.

The inaugural 1906 team was coached by Elwood Brown and finished 6-3, 2-6 in conference. The first game in Illinois' basketball history was a 71-1 romp over Champaign High School in Urbana. Brown left after one season and was replaced by F.L. Pinckney. That 1907 season would turn out to be the worst season in Illinois basketball history. Pinckney guided the Fighting Illini to a

The 1915 team was perfect. The squad became Illinois' first and only team to go undefeated. Ralph Jones' 1915 team scored more than twice as many points as its opponents and won the conference title by a whopping three games over Chicago. The 1915 team started a three-year period in Illinois basketball history that has rarely been matched.

1-10 record, with a 0-8 conference record. The one victory marks the least wins ever by an Illinois team, and the winless conference record has also never been repeated. Among the lowlights was a 42-3 loss to Minnesota, marking the fewest points ever scored by an Illinois team.

With no place to go but up, the Illinois program welcomed its third head coach in three years when Fletcher Lane took over and guided Illinois to its biggest one-year turnaround in history. He posted a 20-6 record, 4-1 in conference play. Lane also left Illinois after his first and only season. He departed as the Fighting Illini's all-time leader in winning percentage at .769.

Herb V. Juul took over for Lane and became the first Illinois coach to stay in Champaign for more than one year. His two-year record was 13-10 overall, and 10-10 in conference, good for fourth-place finishes both years.

T.E. Thompson took over for Juul in 1911 and also stayed two seasons, finishing his career 14-14 overall, 10-13 in conference, good for fourth and fifth places respectively.

The next eight years, from 1913-20, marked the first prolonged period of success in Illinois basketball history. Much of the success was due to head coach Ralph Jones, who had only one losing season during his eight years as head coach. He finished with an 85-34 record.

Illinois' best conference record to that point occurred in 1914, when the Fighting Illini went 7-3 in the Big Ten and 9-4 overall. That year set the stage for the 1915 season, arguably the best Illinois team ever.

The 1915 team was perfect. The squad became Illinois' first and only team to go undefeated. Jones' 1915 team scored more than twice as many points as its opponents and won the conference title by a whopping three games over Chicago. The 1915 team started a three-year period in Illinois basketball history that has rarely been matched.

The arrival of the Woods brothers in 1915 had a lot to do with the success of this era. Guard Ray was named first team All-America all three years he competed (1915-17), and brother Ralf, a forward, led the team in scoring in both 1916 and 1917. His brilliance at the foul line led to the establishment of the Ralf Woods Award, which is still given annually to the Fighting Illini player with the best free-throw percentage.

Led by the Woods brothers, the 1916 team fell short of capturing another conference championship. The squad lost only three games, but all were in within the conference. Illinois finished 13-3 overall, 9-3 in the conference. Two losses to Northwestern and a loss to eventual champion Wisconsin dropped Illinois into a second-place tie with the Wildcats.

Among those two losses to Northwestern was Illinois' first-ever overtime game. Northwestern scored just two points in the overtime period to defeat Illinois, 23-21, Feb. 12, 1916, at what is now the Kenney Gym Annex.

The 1917 season would bring Jones his second and last Big 9 championship, this time tying with Minnesota for top honors. The 1917 team also featured a starting guard named George Halas. The professional football pioneer and Chicago Bear owner and head coach was known on the team for his gritty defense and would be named captain of the 1918 team before entering the armed forces January 18, 1918.

Frank Winters took over the head coaching duties in 1921 and would only stay at that post for two years. His 25-12 overall career record would yield two fourth-place ties in conference play.

To replace Winters, Athletic Director George Huff looked to J. Craig Ruby, who had just completed his first year as head coach of Missouri. Known as one of the great tacticians of his time, Ruby favored a number of revolutionary rules change proposals, including advocating the elimination of the dribble to do away with stalling.

Ruby's first three seasons at Illinois produced three very good teams, which went 30-18 overall and tied for the conference title in 1924. After Ruby's first three years at Illinois his coaching magic wore off for almost a decade. It wouldn't be until 1935 that the Fighting Illini would finish in the top three spots in the conference again.

The 1934 team set the stage for the 1935 championship team when it posted a 13-6 overall mark and 7-5 conference record, good for fourth place. The only non-conference loss that season was a stunning 22-21 opening-game loss to St. Louis at newly-opened Huff Gym.

The 1935 squad got off to a busy start. A season-opening double-header at Huff Gym before 6,205 fans Dec. 10 left Illinois at 1-1 to open the season. A young sophomore guard named Harry Combes scored the first points of the season and showed great speed. He would later become Illinois' head coach in 1948. The squad was only 5-3 after eight Big Ten games, but rallied to win its last four contests to tie Purdue and Wisconsin for the title.

In 1936, Ruby's last Illinois team was 13-6 overall and 7-5 (and tied for third) in the conference. Combes, Jim Vopicka, and Robert Riegel combined to score more than half of Illinois' points that year.

The man chosen to replace Ruby was Douglas Mills. He became one of Illinois' most successful coaches and administrators as well. In his 11-year tenure as head coach, Mills became the first Fighting Illini head coach to win or share three Big Ten championships.

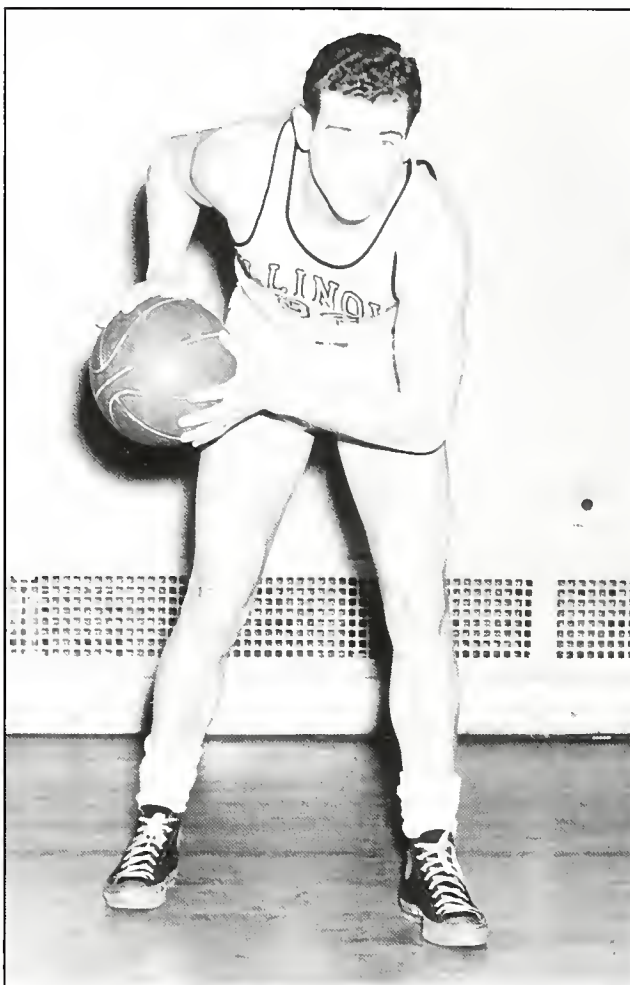

Mills' Illinois coaching career began in stellar fashion in 1937 with a tie for the Big Ten championship. With Combes, Riegel, and Vopicka back, Illinois had much of its firepower returning. Future major league baseball hall of famer Lou Boudreau made the biggest impact, however, leading the team in scoring.

The 1938 season proved to be a tough year with the departure of many stars. Boudreau was still the leader and was named first team All-America by Madison Square Garden. In the four years after the championship of '37, the best finish Illinois could muster would be third in 1939 and a tie for third-place in 1941.

In 1941, Art Mathisen arrived in Champaign in what would precede the magical years of 1942 and 1943. Mills also took over as athletic director that year.

Joining Mathisen in 1942 to form "The Whiz Kids" were Jack Smiley, Andy Phillip, Gene Vance, and Ken Menke. The teams of '42 and '43 captured the imagination of the entire nation, and to this day The Whiz Kids remain one of the most storied teams in Illinois history. The Kids dazzled crowds everywhere averaging 58 points per game, while most teams were averaging in the low 40s.

Illinois won back-to-back Big Ten crowns in '42 and '43. In 1943, the Fighting Illini went 12-0 in conference play, 17-1 overall. The lone loss was to Camp Grant at Rockford Dec. 21. Mills played mostly subs because he felt it would be better for the team to lose a game at some time.

The team was broken up March 1, 1943, when all five starters headed to active duty in the armed forces. All but Mathisen went on to play professionally, with Phillip becoming Illinois' only member of the Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame.

Mills faced a major rebuilding job after the Whiz Kids departed. The 1944 team fell from the class of the Big Ten to 11-9 overall and 5-7 in the conference, good for sixth-place.

Mills' last season as head basketball coach coincided with four of The Whiz Kids' return from military service. The largest home crowd in Illinois history, 7,785, jammed into Huff Gym to see their return Dec. 6, 1946. The Whiz Kids only played the first half, building up a 49-13 lead on Cornell College. Two losses beginning the Big Ten race got Illinois into a hole out from which the team could never climb. The Fighting Illini won eight of their last 10 games, but could only climb to a second-place tie.

After retiring from coaching, Mills retained his position as athletic director until 1966.

Illinois tabbed Harry Combes as Mills' replacement. Combes had been the head coach at Champaign High School. His success didn't end there. In his first nine seasons at Illinois he won three Big Ten titles and compiled an amazing record of 164-144 overall (.788) and 94-30 in the Big Ten (.758).

Combes' first team at Illinois, led by Dike Eddleman and Jack Burmaster, set a Big Ten scoring record with 1,530 points, en route to a 15-5 overall and 7-5 league finish.

The next four years would yield three Big Ten championships, and only 10 conference losses. In 1949, 1951, and 1952 Illinois would finish third in the NCAA, with the latter two clubs losing two-point decisions in the semifinals.

The 1949 team, led by Eddleman, Bill Erickson, and Walter Osterkorn, was Illinois' first 20-game winner since 1908, finishing 21-4. Illinois beat Yale, 71-67, to advance to a national semifinal showdown with Kentucky at Madison Square Garden in New York City. The Wildcats thumped Illinois, 76-47, forcing Illinois to defeat Oregon State, 57-53, in Seattle for third place.

A record for games won in a season was established in 1951, when Illinois went 22-5, including a dominating 13-1 in Big Ten play. Senior Don Sunderlage scored the most points by an Illinois player in a single-season netting 171 points, a 17.4 average. Illinois lost its only conference game at Indiana Jan. 15, 64-53, temporarily putting Illinois into second place. The Fighting Illini would win their next 10 games to beat out Indiana in the final standings by one game.

Illinois again traveled to Madison Square Garden for the NCAA playoffs, beating Columbia, 79-71, and North Carolina State, 84-70, to set up another semifinal battle with Kentucky. In one of the most heart-breaking losses in Illinois basketball history, Kentucky nipped the Fighting Illini, 76-74, on a shot by Kentucky sub Shelby Linville with 12 seconds remaining in the game. Illinois once again rebounded for third place three days later, beating Oklahoma A&M, 61-46, in Minneapolis.

The biggest story of 1952 was the emergence of newcomer John Kerr, a center from Tilden Tech in Chicago. Kerr began his three-year reign atop the Illinois scoring lead with a sophomore-record 357 points. Illinois again swept to the Big Ten championship and equalled the school record for wins in a season, this time going 22-4.

The Fighting Illini headed to Chicago Stadium for the NCAA regionals, beating Dayton, 80-61, and Duquesne, 74-68, to advance to the semifinals again. This time, Illinois ran into an underdog St. John's club. The Redmen fought and clawed their way to a 61-59 win in the NCAA's first Final Four, in Seattle. Once again, Illinois took third-place beating Santa Clara, 67-61, behind 26 points by Kerr.

The next four years characterized a series of near-misses for Illinois, which finished second in the Big Ten in '53, '55, and '56, and tied for third in '54.

Illinois' 10-4 conference mark in '54 was only good for a tie for third, but Kerr shattered Illinois' single-season scoring record by tallying 556 points in his senior year. He then departed on a 12-year pro career and became the first head coach of the Chicago Bulls in 1960.

The 1963 season produced Combes' fourth and last Big Ten championship and 20-win season, when it posted a 20-6, 11-3 record. Downey exploded for an Illinois single-game scoring record with 53 points in a road loss to Indiana, as well as set the Big Ten records for points and field goals in a game.

Illinois was a game back of first place with only two remaining when the Assembly Hall opened its doors for the first time March 4, 1963. Illinois beat Northwestern in an exciting 79-73 nail-biter before 16,137 frenzied fans to stay within a game of first-place Ohio State. Even after Illinois edged Iowa, 73-69, on the last game of the season, the Fighting Illini would need an overtime loss two hours later by the Buckeyes at the hands of Indiana to grab a share of the conference title.

Illinois then headed to East Lansing, Mich., for the NCAA playoffs. After beating Bowling Green, 70-67, Illinois was thumped by eventual national champion Loyola, 79-64.

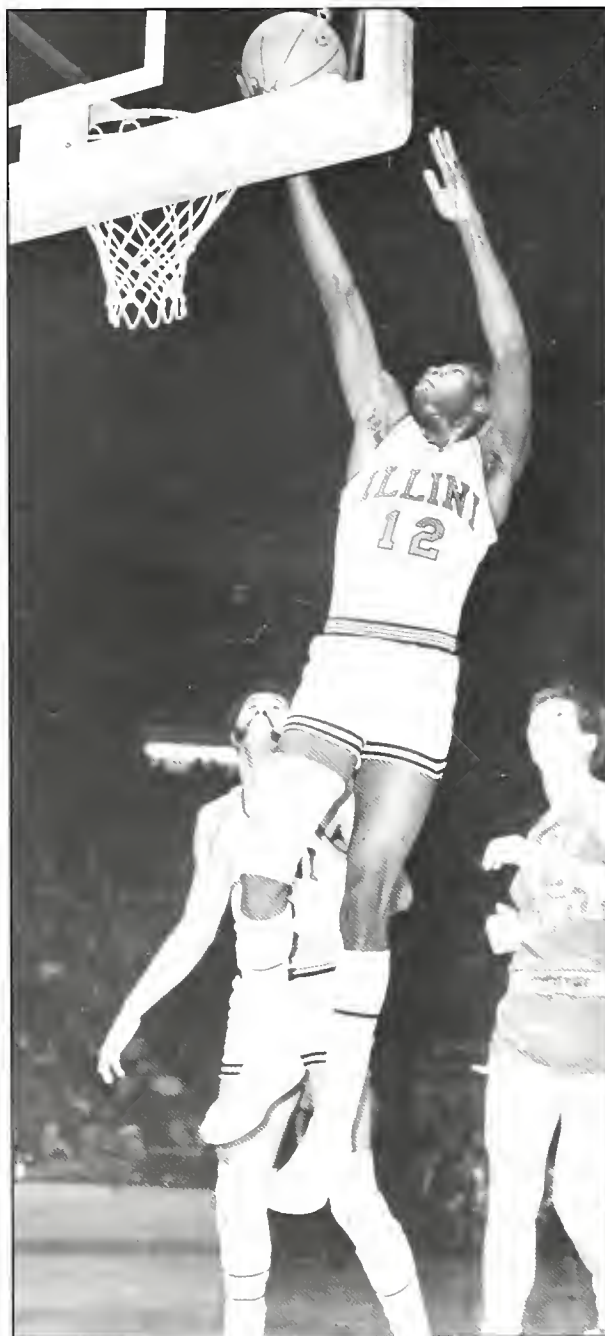

The 1965 season began with one of the biggest upsets in Illinois basketball history. The Fighting Illini crushed defending national champion UCLA, 110-83, setting many Assembly Hall records. Combes would later call the game, "one of the best an Illinois team has ever played."

Combes' last season in 1967 was one of incredible ups and downs, highlighted on the court by a stunning, 98-97, overtime win over No. 3 Kentucky in Lexington Dec. 8. That year also included the uncovering of the "slush fund" scandal. Three Illinois players were disqualified as a result of the incident that eventually cost Combes his job.

Star Rich Jones, junior center Ron Dunlap, and valuable sophomore sub Steve Kuberski were suspended by the University of Illinois in the wake of the Big Ten investigation into illegal payments to the players.

Harv Schmidt, who played for the Illini in the 1950s, returned to Illinois to become head coach in 1968. Schmidt had been an assistant at New Mexico the three previous years but had no collegiate head coaching experience. His seven year-tenure began with much more success than that with which it would end.

The 1968 team was still stinging from the previous year and posted only Illinois' sixth losing season in history, going 11-13 overall and 6-8 in the Big Ten to tie for seventh place. The team won four of its first conference games, but lost seven of its last nine.

With the team's top five scorers returning, the Fighting Illini were expected to be better in 1970, but even Schmidt was surprised at the huge improvement that occurred. The club jumped to a 19-5, 9-5 record finishing tied for second in the conference. The performance earned Schmidt third place in National Coach of the Year balloting.

The 1970 team still finished tied for third place in the Big Ten, but its record fell to 15-9. Illinois began the conference schedule 5-0 to move into sole possession of first place at the semester break. However, the team would lose the next the five games to wipe out any chance of a conference title. That season Illinois set an NCAA attendance record, selling out all 11 home games in advance for an average of 16,128 fans per game. Students frequently camped out for tickets, and Schmidt encouraged the louder students to sit near the floor to help make more noise.

After 1970, things went downhill for Schmidt. Crowds shrunk, the state's best high school players began going elsewhere, the team lost more than it had in the past, and eventually the NCAA would put Illinois on probation.

The 1971 team became Schmidt's second team in four years to finish below .500 at 11-13, 5-9. The most pleasant aspect of 1971 was the arrival of forward Nick Weatherspoon from Canton, Ohio, who stepped right into the starting lineup to lead the team in rebounds. "Spoon" would go on to lead the team in scoring and rebounding the next two years before playing eight seasons in the NBA.

The 1974 season was a disaster. Illinois finished a dismal 5-18 overall and 2-12 in the Big Ten to tie for ninth place. Schmidt was fired in the midst of a record 11-game losing streak and wound up 89-77 overall in his seven years as head coach.

To replace Schmidt, Illinois looked to Memphis State head man Gene Bartow. He was building a reputation as a coach adept at building programs from the bottom up. Bartow came in promising big things, but only a year later he was gone, accepting the head coaching job at UCLA. In his only year at Illinois, he recorded an 8-18, 4-14 record, good for a tie for a ninth place in the Big Ten.

Illinois once again chose a coach known for turning losers into winners when it picked New Mexico State head coach Lon Henson. It took Henson a couple of years to establish his program in Champaign. The first three years were unspectacular, but paved the way for better teams to come.

The 1976 team finished 14-14 overall and 7-11 in the Big Ten. The '77 squad was 16-14, 8-10, and the 1978 team finished as Henson's only sub-.500 club (until 1991-92) at 13-14, 7-11. Despite the poor record, the 1978 team signaled the arrival of Eddie Johnson and Mark Smith, two players who would lead the team into the 1980s and pave the way for Illinois' return to national prominence.

In 1979, Illinois still finished seventh in the Big Ten but went 19-11, including an ascension to No. 2 in the nation after starting the year 15-0. Although the Fighting Illini went 4-11 from that point on, they still led the nation in defensive field goal percentage (.404).

With everyone back for 1980, Illinois recorded Henson's first 20-win season at 22-13 to tie the school record for wins in a season. Illinois made its first postseason appearance since 1963, finishing third in the NIT.

Bruce Douglas led the Fighting Illini in steals and assists in from 1983-86.

Illinois took another step on its ladder toward the national spotlight in 1981 when it appeared in its first NCAA Tournament since 1963. The Fighting Illini led the Big Ten in scoring for the second consecutive season and were again led by Johnson and Smith. Guards Craig Tucker and Derek Harper arrived to add backcourt punch, and Harper was named first-team Freshman All-America by ESPN and NBC.

In 1981, Illinois recorded its highest conference finish since 1973, finishing with a 12-6 Big Ten mark and a 21-8 overall record. That team was the best shooting team in Fighting Illini history with a .509 field goal percentage. The squad received a first-round bye in the NCAA tournament and beat Wyoming, 67-65, in Los Angeles to advance to the regionals in Salt Lake City, where the Illini lost to Kansas State, 57-52.

In 1982, Harper led the Big Ten in assists and steals, setting a school record for thefts with 67. By finishing 18-11 and getting another invitation to the NIT, it marked the first time in history that the Fighting Illini appeared in postseason play for three consecutive years. In smashing Long Island, 126-78, in the first round, Illinois set the mark for most points ever scored in a college postseason game. Dayton, however, beat Illinois, 61-58, for Henson's fourth non-conference loss at Assembly Hall in seven years.

One of Illinois' best groups of incoming talent ever arrived in 1983. Guards Bruce Douglas and Doug Altenberger, and forwards Scott Meents and Efrem Winters joined sophomores George Montgomery and Anthony Welch to form the nucleus for a team that would win 95 games during the next four seasons.

The Fighting Illini became the 25th team to win 1,000

Illinois' 1988-89 team set a school record for victories in a season with 31 and advanced to the NCAA Final Four.

games in the second game of the year, beating Texas A&M in the Great Alaskan Shootout, 72-70. Harper fell one vote short of being named a unanimous All-Big Ten selection, before leaving school early for the NBA draft and becoming a first-round draft pick of the Dallas Mavericks. Douglas set school records for assists (189) and steals (78) in a season, as Illinois finished 21-11 and was beaten by Utah in the first round of the NCAA tournament, 52-49.

The only non-conference blemish of the '84 season was a thrilling 56-54 Christmas Eve loss to No. 1-ranked Kentucky at the Assembly Hall.

En route to a Big Ten title tie with Purdue, Illinois had four overtime games, one of which—a 75-66 win over Michigan—lasted an astounding four overtimes. The next game, a double-overtime win at Iowa, was Henson's 400th as a college coach.

Illinois headed to Milwaukee to beat Villanova in the NCAA tournament, 64-56. The Fighting Illini came from behind to defeat Maryland, 72-70, in the regional semifinals to set up a showdown with host Kentucky in the regional final. Illinois never led, but was within striking distance when a controversial foul called on Douglas put Wildcat guard Dickie Beal on the line to win the game, 54-50.

In 1985, Basketball Times picked Illinois No. 1 nationally in its preseason poll, but the Fighting Illini were upset twice in non-conference play. Illinois would head to Atlanta for the NCAA tournament after finishing second in the Big Ten with a 26-9, 12-6 record. Two wins over Northeastern (76-57) and Georgia (74-58) brought about a regional semifinal tilt with Georgia Tech. The Yellow Jackets used a 25-10 burst to begin the second half and beat Illinois, 61-53.

Junior-college transfer Ken Norman highlighted the '86 season, setting an Illinois all-time single-season field goal percentage record of .641. The Fighting Illini once again led the Big Ten in scoring defense, allowing opponents only 61.6 ppg. Again, Illinois went to the NCAA tournament, this time thrashing Fairfield, 75-51, in Charlotte, N.C., to set up a game with Alabama. The Crimson Tide built a nine-point lead at halftime and was able to hold off Illinois, 58-56, despite 18 points from junior guard Tony Wysinger.

With four four-year starters gone, Illinois had to replenish its troops and did so with an outstanding group of newcomers. Guards Steve Bardo, Kendall Gill, and Larry Smith joined forward Nick Anderson in a highly-touted recruiting class. The '87 team finished 23-8 overall and 13-5 in the Big Ten, good for fourth-place. Seeded third in the NCAA's Southeast Region, Illinois was beaten in arguably the school's most shocking upset ever, losing to unknown Austin Peay, 68-67.

Two first-year players led Illinois in scoring in 1988. Northern Illinois transfer Kenny Battle finally got to unveil his high-flying game for the Fighting Illini and averaged 15.6 ppg and 5.5 rpg. Anderson led the team in scoring at 15.9 ppg after sitting out the '87 season. Along with Gill, Bardo, junior forward Lowell Hamilton, and Smith, this team would lay the foundation for the spectacular '89 team. Included in the 23-10, 12-6, third-place finish was Henson's 500th victory.

Cincinnati was the site of the opening round of the 1988 NCAA tournament, and Illinois disposed of another relative-unknown, Texas-San Antonio, 81-72. A rematch with Villanova, to whom Illinois lost in Hawaii earlier in the year, ended with disappointment again, 66-63.

The 1989 team may very well have been the most talented team ever assembled at Illinois. It was comprised of all of the important pieces from '88, as well as junior-college All-American P.J. Bowman and former high school All-American Marcus Liberty.

The team shattered most of its all-time records, including most points in a season (3,110), most steals in a season (341), and most wins in a season (31), in addition to setting an all-time mark for points in a game in a 127-100 victory at LSU. The Fighting Illini won their first 16 games and were ranked No. 2 in the nation going into a nationally televised game against Georgia Tech, whom Illinois had already beaten, 80-75, at The Rainbow Classic in December. The Yellow Jackets led, 47-31, after scoring the first basket of the second half, but Illinois managed to surge back to force overtime, eventually needing two extra sessions to win the game.

Along with the No. 1 ranking the next day, Illinois found out that the club's catalyst, Gill, had broken a bone in his foot and would miss the next 12 games. Hurt by the loss of Gill, the team lost the No. 1 ranking and three of its next four games, but rallied to finish second in the Big Ten with a 14-4 conference record.

With Gill back in the lineup, Illinois was awarded the No. 1 seed in the Midwest region in the NCAA tournament and rolled to victories over McNeese State and Ball State at the Hoosier Dome in Indianapolis. A power-packed regional in Minneapolis, consisting of Illinois, Missouri, Louisville, and Syracuse, stood in the way of the Fighting Illini's first trip to the Final Four since 1952. Louisville fell victim to Illinois first, losing, 83-69, to set up a duel with Syracuse. The Fighting Illini held off the Orangemen to advance to Seattle where Illinois faced Michigan, a team it had already beaten twice that year. Despite Battle's 29-point, 11-rebound effort, Michigan defeated Illinois, 83-81.

In April of '89, high school All-American Deon Thomas signed a national letter of intent with Illinois. In the ensuing 17 months, Illinois was dragged through a grueling NCAA investigation which eventually found no major wrong doings in the Fighting Illini program, but resulted in a three-year probation limiting scholarships and recruiting severely.

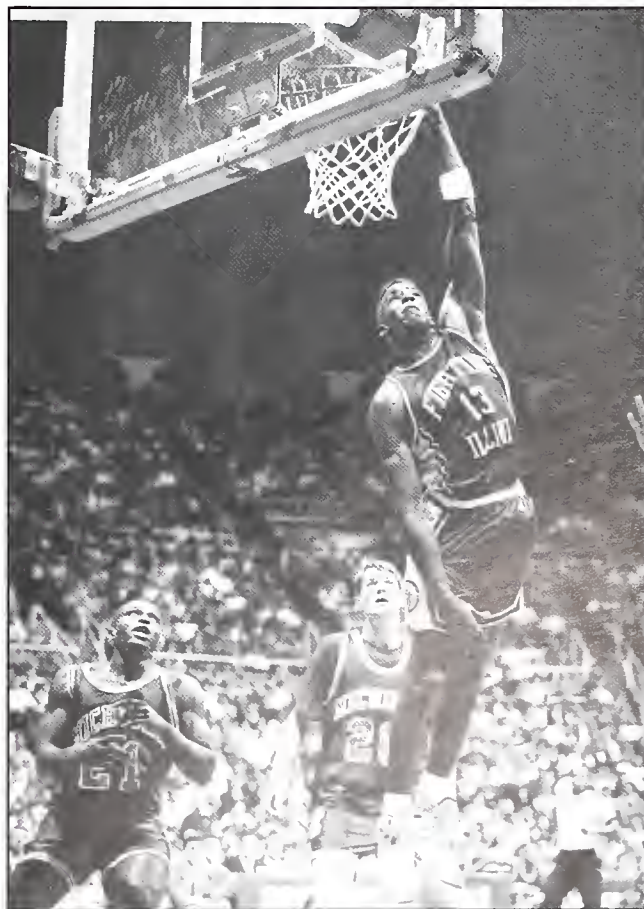

On the court, Fighting Illini went 21-8 overall and 11-

7 in the Big Ten to tie for fourth place. Gill became the first player since Norman in '87 to average 20 ppg and was named first-team All-America by UPI. He was also a finalist for the John Wooden Award and was the fifth player chosen in the NBA draft that summer, going to the Charlotte Hornets.

Illinois seemed to be peaking going into the NCAA tournament, winning its last two games, a home dousing of Iowa, and a hard-fought win at Indiana, in which Gill became the first Illinois player to lead the Big Ten in scoring since Andy Phillip had done so in 1943. The Fighting Illini were seeded fifth in the Midwest region and headed to Austin, Texas, to face Dayton. In another big postseason upset, the Flyers stayed with Illinois the entire way and won, 88-86.

Going into the 1991 season no one expected much of Illinois. After losing Gill, Bardo, and Liberty, who declared himself eligible for the NBA draft a year early, Illinois was picked as low as ninth in the Big Ten by some publications.

Kendall Gill earned first-team All-America honors in 1990 after leading the Big Ten in scoring as a senior.

Junior forward Andy Kaufmann burst upon the scene scoring 660 points, the second largest single-season total in Illinois history. A three-game sweep of favored opponents LSU, Missouri, and Memphis State set the stage for the Fighting Illini's surprise tie for third in the Big Ten and a 21-10 overall finish. Thomas began his career, after sitting out 1990, scoring the most points ever by an Illinois freshman.

In 1991-92, the Fighting Illini took the court without a senior letterman for the first time in more than 50 years and saw their record dip below .500 for the first time since 1977-78 and only the second time in the Lou Henson era. Andy Kaufmann, the leading scorer from the previous year, had to sit out the entire year with academic problems, which only added to the Illini's woes.

The Illini's string of consecutive upper-division Big Ten finishes was snapped at nine as was their string of 20-plus victory seasons. Illinois' streak of plus-.500 Big Ten records also came to an end, at 11.

The return of Andy Kaufmann marked yet another turn-around for Illinois. After sitting out a season, Kaufmann helped lead the 1992-93 team to a 19-13 record. The team also notched its first NCAA-tournament victory since the 1989 "Flying Illini" visited the Final Four.

The Fighting Illini again advanced to the NCAA tournament in 1994, but the most memorable moment of the season occurred in early December when Deon Thomas broke a 13-year-old record and became Illinois' all-time leading scorer. Thomas scored his record-breaking 1,693rd point in the championship game of the Illini/Pepsi Classic and went on to finish the season with 2,129 career points.

Deon Thomas became Illinois' all-time leading scorer during the 1993-94 season.

Silver Basketball Trophy Winners

The Silver Basketball Trophy is given each year by the Chicago Tribune to the Most Valuable Player in the Big Ten Conference. Prior to the Silver Basketball Trophy, Andy Phillip was named Most Valuable Player in 1913.

1949	Dike Eddleman, F	1954	John Kerr, C
1951	Don Sunderlage, G	1967	Jim Dawson, G

Big Ten Medal of Honor

In 1914, the Big Ten Conference endowed a Medal of Honor, to be awarded annually at each institution to the student demonstrating proficiency in scholarship and academics. Beginning in 1982, a woman athlete from each institution has also been awarded the Conference Medal of Honor.

In the 76-year history of the award, 11 Fighting Illini basketball players have earned the award, including Edward A. Williford, the University of Illinois' first recipient of the award. There has been one father-son UI Medal of Honor duo, Lee Sentman (track) in 1931 and his son Lee Sentman III (fencing) in 1958. Gymnast Howard Beck (1971 and 1975) is the only two-time recipient of the award.

The following is the list of Illinois basketball players who have won the Big Ten Medal of Honor:

1915	Edward A. Williford	1943	Edwin S. Parker
1917	Clyde Godel Alwood	1945	Donald Delaney
1920	John B. Felmley	1949	T. Dwight Eddleman
1923	Otto H. Vogel	1953	Clive Follmer
1924	Walter Roettger	1963	David J. Downey
1937	Harry Combes	1965	G. Bogie Redmon
1942	William Hocking

Harry Combes (left) won the Big Ten Medal of Honor while playing for the Illini in 1937. He later went on to coach Silver Basketball Award winner Don Sunderlage in 1951.

Illinois Wooden Award Nominees

The John R. Wooden Award, first awarded in 1976, is presented annually to an outstanding basketball player. The award, named after the famous UCLA coach, is sponsored by the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Twelve candidates are selected by the club's National Advisory Board, according to the award's criteria, which includes a 2.0 cumulative grade point average. The winner is selected by votes from 1,000 sportscasters and writers from each of the 50 states.

1987	Ken Norman
1990	Kendall Gill

Kenny Battle Award

The Kenny Battle Award honors the former Fighting Illini forward who was known for his tremendous amount of effort exerted in games, as well as practices. The winner is chosen by the players and the coaches.

Assembly Hall & Press Box

Entrance to Assembly Hall & Press Box — Properly credentialed media may enter the Assembly Hall through the "Press and Participants" door at the northeast lower entrance. Persons picking up credentials at the Assembly Hall will be required to furnish positive identification to the attendant. Media should proceed to room 123 where overcoats and personal items can be stored while the game is in progress. Media may also secure game programs, media guides and pregame information sheets. Please contact a member of the UI Sports Information staff if access to room 123 is needed during the game.

Courtside Photography

All photographers should report to room 123 of the Assembly Hall upon their arrival to receive a photo armband, to be worn in addition to the credential. All photographers must work from within the designated areas around the perimeter of the playing court. The University of Illinois follows NCAA and Big Ten guidelines regarding event photography. In the event of heavy demand for photo credentials for a particular game, shooting locations will be assigned.

Strobes — Photographers wishing to use strobe equipment at Illinois home games must make their requests known to the Illinois Sports Information staff at least one week in advance of the game for which they are needed. There is a nominal charge for installation and/or use of such equipment. A maximum of two strobe units may be used for any individual game.

Credentials

Press Box — All members of the media covering the game in a working capacity must seek appropriate credentials in advance from Mike Pearson, UI Sports Information Director. We would appreciate receiving these requests at least two weeks before the date of the game. Requests for working space in the press box, courtside photo passes and parking passes must be made on your affiliation's letterhead stationary. In the event of heavy demand for credentials for a particular game, requests will be prioritized according to published circulation numbers. Be specific when requesting the type of credential needed. Spouses, dates, non-workers, and children will not be permitted in the press box. Media agencies that violate this policy will not be issued credentials for future games.

Road-Game Credentials — Media credential requests for Fighting Illini road games should be addressed to the Sports Information Director of the host institution. Be specific when requesting the type of credential needed.

Parking

A limited number of complimentary parking passes for the northeast quadrant will be issued to media for 1995-96 Fighting Illini basketball games at the Assembly Hall. The issuance of passes will be done on a priority basis, with University of Illinois beat reporters holding the highest priority. Requests will then be prioritized according to published circulation figures. A replacement pass will not be issued if the original pass is lost. Media personnel are strongly encouraged to arrive at least 15 minutes prior to tipoff, and to enter the northeast lot from Fourth Street. Media will not be admitted into the lots free of charge without a parking pass. Every attempt will be made to provide accredited media with a complimentary parking pass, but the number of passes is limited.

Pregame and Postgame Services

Play-by-play, halftime and complete final statistics, quote sheets, and pregame and postgame notes are all regular services on game day. Postgame information will be distributed to media at their position in the press box.

Postgame — Coach Lou Henson and selected UI players will be available approximately 10-15 minutes after the conclusion of the game, and will be brought to the Press Room (adjacent to the tunnel at the north end of the floor). The visiting coach and players are available, subject to their team's policy. Those interested in audio taping grouped interviews should connect their recorders to the distribution amplifier provided by Sports Information. Output from the device is microphone level, terminated in 1/8" two-conductor plugs and jacks, or three-pin standard microphone male connectors.

Telephones

Telephone lines in the press box must be ordered at least one week in advance of the game(s) for which they are needed. The orders should be addressed to Debbie Shepherd of Ameritech (800/321-8152, or by fax 810/443-9370) during regular business hours. No telephone lines or instruments are available through the UI Sports Information Office. Four charge-a-call phones are located in the center section of Row 1 in the press box. In addition, a pay telephone is located on the lower concourse of the Assembly Hall, near the East entrance.

Big Ten's "Fax-on-Demand" Service

Again in 1995-96, the Big Ten Conference will feature the "Fax-on-Demand" service. This unique service allows media members 24-hour access to the latest Fighting Illini basketball media releases, updated statistics, and box scores.

Illini media releases will be available weekly on the "Fax-on-Demand." Please check the media calendar on pages 196-200 for specific dates and times.

Illini box scores will be available approximately 45 minutes following the conclusion of each game.

Updated Illini statistics will be available by 11 a.m. CT the morning after each game.

As is the case with the other 10 Big Ten Conference members, the University of Illinois will not be faxing its basketball releases to media personnel during the 1995-96 season. Media should use the "Fax-on-Demand" service. For more information, call either the UI Sports Information Office (217/333-1391) or the Big Ten Conference Communications Department (708/696-1010).

Illinois' men's basketball "Fax-on-Demand" codes are as follows:

- 1210 Entire Release Package (includes statistics)
- 1211 Statistics Only
- 1212 Roster & Schedule
- 1215 Last Game Statistic Package.

Broadcast Services

A special feature of the UI Sports Information office is the Broadcast Services division, coordinated by assistant SID Dave Johnson.

A 10-minute weekly satellite feed, available every Monday (beginning Nov. 20) during the basketball season at 7:30 p.m. CT, via the Galaxy IV satellite, KU Band, Transponder 17-upper. The "trouble number" at WCIA-TV's master control is 217/373-3675.

Three-quarter-inch video dubs of each of the last five seasons of Illini basketball games are available. A very limited selection of archive video tape prior to the 1989-90 season is also available. At least one day advance notice of your video request will be appreciated. Call Dave Johnson at 217/333-1391 for more information.

Radio Programming

The "Illini Today" show airs Monday through Friday on each Illini Sports Network affiliate, and provides daily updates on UI athletics. "Classroom Champions" is a feature that airs at halftime of each basketball game and highlights the academic achievements of UI students. "Lou Henson Live," a call-in talk show airs each Monday on the network from 7-8 p.m. CT.

Lou Henson TV Show

This weekly 30-minute television program, hosted by Chris Widdie of WCIA-TV in Champaign, features game highlights and interviews with coaches, players and others involved in the Illinois basketball program. Viewers should consult their local listings for the days and times of the telecasts.

Media Luncheons & Teleconferences

All media personnel who regularly cover Illinois basketball are invited to these bi-weekly sessions, held at the Assembly Hall. Coach Lou Henson is available for interviews, as are opposing coaches (by telephone hook-up). The luncheons get underway at 11:30 a.m. CT and conclude at 1 p.m. Henson will be available via teleconference each week there is not a luncheon at 11:30 a.m. Check the dates and times listed on the media calendar on pages 196-200 for dates of luncheons and teleconferences or call the UI Sports Information Office for details.

Media Procedure for Interviews with Illinois Coaches, Athletes and Administrators

To facilitate the schedules of Division of Intercollegiate Athletics' (DIA) coaches and administrators and to expedite media requests, the University of Illinois Sports Information Office encourages media personnel to arrange interview requests through the Sports Information staff. Whenever circumstances prevent media personnel the time or opportunity to follow this procedure, DIA coaches and administrators are encouraged to accommodate media requests. This interview procedure is designed to enhance the availability of DIA staff members to answer questions from the media at a time which best facilitates each individual's schedule. Telephone calls to the homes of DIA staff members from the media may be made upon consent of the individual coach or staff member.

Interview requests from the media for University of Illinois student-athletes should be arranged through the Sports Information Office. Media personnel are asked not to call the student-athlete at his residence.

In most situations, the most convenient opportunity for media interviews is prior to the team practice sessions. If this is not a convenient time for the media, return telephone calls from the athletes to the media will be arranged. The student-athletes' academic endeavors are of the utmost importance, and they will not be asked to miss classes for purposes of a media interview. In most situations, student-athletes are not available on the day of scheduled intercollegiate competition until after the event is completed.

Illinois Sports Information Staff

MIKE PEARSON

Mike Pearson began his seventh year as sports information director at the University of Illinois in 1995.

A 1975 graduate of Michigan State University, he earned a bachelor's degree in journalism while working as a student assistant in the MSU sports information office. Upon graduation, he joined Tab Bennett's sports publicity staff at Illinois as an assistant from 1975-79. Pearson then became athletic promotions director at Western Michigan University, serving in that capacity during the 1979-80 season. He rejoined his alma mater in 1980 as an assistant SID, continuing in that position until 1987, when he was promoted to MSU's assistant director of public relations for broadcast/marketing/photos.

Pearson recently authored "Illini Legends, Lists and Lore," a 100-year history of Illinois' participation in the Big Ten Conference.

Pearson, whose family includes wife Laura, sons Anthony, Thomas and Parker, and daughter Paige, hails from St. Johns, Mich.

KENT BROWN

Serving as an assistant sports information director is Kent Brown, now in his 10th year at Illinois and seventh as assistant director.

Brown, a former student assistant and graduate assistant in the UI sports information office, earned a B.S. in journalism from Illinois in 1987 and a M.S. in sports management from Illinois in 1989. He has earned numerous citations for publication excellence from the College Sports Information Directors of America, including a second in the nation award for the 1988-89 basketball program series.

In addition to men's basketball, Brown works with football, men's golf and baseball.

Brown and his wife, Robin, both natives of Hammond, Ill., reside in Urbana with their daughter, Nicholle.

DAVE JOHNSON

Dave Johnson is in his eighth year as an assistant sports information director, after joining the Illinois staff in 1988. He also serves as director of broadcast relations and helps coordinate the Illini Network.

A native of Champaign, he earned his B.A. in speech communications from Illinois in 1986. He added an M.S. in sports management from the United States Sports Academy in Mobile, Ala., in 1987.

Johnson was sports director at WILL-AM/FM radio from 1983-86 and served an internship in the public relations office of the NBA's Detroit Pistons in 1984. Johnson has received nine CoSIDA citations for publications excellence.

A resident of Champaign, Johnson and his wife, Laurie, have three children, Matthew, Jennifer, and Ashley.

MARTY KAUFMANN

Marty Kaufmann is in his first year as assistant director of sports information at Illinois, after serving as an intern in the office the last two years.

In addition to serving as women's basketball SID, Kaufmann also is the primary contact for the men's and women's track and cross country teams and the women's golf team. He also assists in promoting the football squad.

A former three-year student assistant in the UI sports information office, Kaufmann earned a B.S. in business administration/marketing from Illinois in 1993.

Kaufmann's 1994 men's cross country guide was judged fourth best in the nation by the College Sports Information Directors of America.

A native of Jacksonville, Ill., Kaufmann resides in Savoy.

JULIE DALPIAZ

Serving as coordinator of publications for the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics since September of 1990 is Julie Dalpiaz.

Prior to accepting her current position, Dalpiaz was sports information director at John Carroll University in Cleveland, Ohio, from 1986-1990.

She began her career in sports publicity as a student at the University of Dayton. Following her graduation from Dayton in 1984, Dalpiaz was a sports-writer for The News-Herald in Willoughby, Ohio. She earned her master's degree in sport administration from Kent State University in 1990.

More than 30 of Dalpiaz' publications have won awards in CoSIDA competition including the 1994-95 Illinois men's basketball media guide, judged best in District V.

Dalpiaz resides in Urbana.

Illini Sports Network

The 42-station Illini Sports Network once again will bring Fighting Illini basketball to fans across the state with Jim Turpin and Loren Tate.

Jim Turpin serves as the play-by-play voice of Illini basketball, a role he's had for most of the past 37 years.

A 1961 graduate of the University of Illinois, Turpin is vice president and general manager of WDWS and WHMS Radio in Champaign. He also hosts "Lon Henson Live," the network's weekly state-wide radio call-in show with the coach of the Illini. Turpin also serves as co-host of the popular Saturday Sportsline on WDWS/WHMS Radio.

Turpin is a past winner of the Illinois Broadcasters Association's Silver Dome Award, given to down state Illinois' best play-by-play broadcaster.

Loren Tate provides color analysis on Fighting Illini basketball radio broadcasts. Tate is the executive sports editor of the Champaign-Urbana News-Gazette, having covered Illini football and basketball for that newspaper since 1966.

Prior to assuming his position with The News-Gazette, Tate served as sports editor of the Hammond Times for 11 years.

A 1953 University of Illinois graduate, Tate's career also includes extensive experience in the electronic media. He was sports director for WICD-TV from 1969-79. Currently, he co-hosts the Saturday Sportsline talk show with Turpin on WDWS/WHMS Radio.

The Illini Sports Network is managed by the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics, including management, distribution, sales operations, affiliate relations and programming.

Illini Sports Network programming includes Illinois football, men's and women's basketball, volleyball, and baseball, along with the popular

"Illini Today" series, "Fighting Illini Flashback," and the coaches' live weekly call-in shows. "Lon Henson Live" can be heard on Monday nights from 7-8 p.m.

For information on the Illini Sports Network, contact Dave Johnson, director of broadcast relations, at (217) 333-8221.
